Northern Part of Nation
Struck by Wintry Weather

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Men and snow removal equipment in northern and eastern Maine labored today to clear highways of heavy drifted snow that stranded hundreds of travelers in a chaotic white nightmare.

The snow Tuesday skipped past most of the coast but struck sections of Maine hard. Driven by winds which sometimes reached 60 miles an hour, the snow piled in drifts up to eight feet.

Mother, Sons Missing

At least two persons died in the blizzard which heaped nearly two feet of snow on Eastport and heavy amounts on other areas of Hancock, Washington and Aroostook counties.

Police said a snowplow operator, Elmer K. Stockpole, died at work south of Presque Isle. In Bangor, Helen Stoddard, 72, collapsed in her driveway after walking six blocks through wind-driven snow.

A northern Nova Scotia woman, Mrs. Roland MacKenzie and her sons, 12 and 8 years, were missing in woods near their home at Thomson Station. They had left to hunt rabbits shortly before the storm broke.

Wintry weather prevailed across the northern half of the nation from the Rockies to the western slopes of the Appalachians, with snow and cold.

Freezing weather again nipped areas deep in the South, with the mercury dropping to 24 in Macon, Ga., and 29 in Tallahassee, Fla., Montgomery, Ala., and Albany, Ga. The below-zero belt covered northern Midwest areas with 11 below at Grand Forks, N.D., one of the lower readings.

8-Foot Drifts

Winds of 30 to 50 miles gusting up to 70, raked most of Maine. At Lubec, high winds toppled three chimneys, including one that left a gaping hole in the roof.

Baker Refuses To Surrender His Documents

Tells Probers They Might Tend to Incriminate Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bobby Baker, former secretary of the Senate Democratic majority, refused today to turn over subpoenaed documents to senators investigating an alleged political payoff from a government contract. He pleaded they "might tend to incriminate me."

Insurance man Don B. Reynolds in sworn testimony Tuesday pictured himself as the "bag man" for Baker and politician Matthew H. McCloskey in a deal to secretly funnel money from a stadium construction contract here into the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund.

The Senate Rules Committee had served Baker with a subpoena commanding him to bring to its hearing any documents which would shed light on the allegations.

Fight Over TV Issue

In a strained voice, Baker testified that he had complied by bringing the documents to the hearing, but that he must "respectfully refuse" to surrender them.

On demand from Baker's attorney, the lights for television were turned out before questions were put to Baker.

However, radio and television microphones were left on the desk in front of Baker.

Attorney Edward Bennett Williams argued that the lights served as a distraction and a harassment of Baker and contributed to his physical discomfort.

Baker gave only his name and address before the request for a television blackout produced an argument among committee members.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., wanted Williams to say whether Baker would be a cooperative witness before the committee decided on the question of television. In a previous phase of the hearings, Baker refused to answer any questions about his many outside business activities while working for the Senate Democrats.

Williams told Curtis he would have to wait until he heard the questions before deciding whether Baker would answer.

The television lights were turned off during testimony of the day's first witness—William M. McLeod Jr., who denied any role in or knowledge of a political payoff from the stadium construction.

Kennedy Film Edited By Ceylonese Censors

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Ceylon's Foreign Ministry has cut references it considers complimentary to Fidel Castro from the Kennedy memorial film "Years of Lightning, Day of Drums."

The film is being shown by the U.S. Information Agency. The ministry also cut sections dealing with the Berlin situation and events in Southeast Asia which were considered anti-Communist.

A Foreign Ministry source said the government does not allow foreign missions to distribute propaganda that could imperil Ceylon's relations with friendly countries.

Indian Throngs Greet Pope Paul in Bombay

Eucharistic Congress as Pilgrim of Peace, Love

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL
BOMBAY, India (AP) — A gigantic, fervent sea of humanity surged around Pope Paul VI as he arrived today.

After the longest mission ever undertaken by a pontiff, the Pope over a trip here of 13 miles was encompassed for an hour and a half by hundreds of thousands. They pressed against his car and at times seemed almost to spill over it. Police estimated there were 100,000 at the airport and more than a million along the way.

Streets Crowded

"Jai!" the people cried as he entered Bombay. "Hail! Hail!" It was an enormous reception, in the view of veteran observers.

The multitudes crammed the streets. They packed the rooftops. They filled balconies and alcoves. They stood atop signboards, walls, vehicles and on hillside adjoing the Pope's route.

Thant Wins Debate Delay In Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The launching of the twice-delayed U.N. General Assembly without a head-on clash between the United States and the Soviet Union was seen today as a victory for Secretary-General U Thant.

Delegates said Thant's patience and persistence brought the big powers together Tuesday for one more try at getting the assembly under way without a blowup over the issue of the Soviet Union's unpaid peace-keeping dues and its assembly vote.

As diplomats sat in the General Assembly hall waiting for the 19th session to begin, representatives of the four big powers met in Thant's office and agreed to limit the opening weeks to general policy debate and noncontroversial issues.

During that time a 21-nation committee will try to reach some solution of the issue raised by Soviet refusal to pay any Congo or Middle East peace-keeping dues and the U.S. contention that it should lose its assembly vote as a financial delinquent.

Times Square Is Scene of Battle With Guns Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Policemen and a former inmate of a hospital for the criminally insane fought a gun battle in Times Square early today.

Bullets shattered windows of two stores in the gaudy, crowded crossroads, but nobody was wounded. At one point, patrolmen withheld their fire lest they hit bystanders attracted by the gunplay.

Officers cornered their winded quarry in a 17th-floor hotel room, where he was reloading his revolver. He gave up without a struggle.

The drama began shortly after midnight when 10 detectives took positions at the intersection of Broadway and 45th Street. They had been tipped off by Wilfredo Flores, 23, that John David Thompson, 28, was to meet him there.

Flores, a former fellow inmate of Thompson at the Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, was to deliver two pistols to Thompson.

Cuban Workers to Have First Election In Castro's Regime

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban workers are voting today to fill 10,000 posts on worker councils but you should keep a close watch on other public meetings and work law. It is the places and your alarm ring.

The councils, to be set up in me. The pre-dawn fire Tuesday destroyed the Holy Trinity Apostolic church. An unidentified himself as "the chap who has been burning the churches." Then he told them "go to the mailbox at Fifth and Chestnut." The note, was found there.

The pontiff, 67, riding in an open white American-built convertible, alternately smiled and looked about in wonderment, waving almost continuously and occasionally pressing a dark hand stretched to him.

There was no single incident, although police had been prepared for hostile acts from fanatical Hindu sects opposed to the papal visit to attend the 38th international eucharistic congress.

Greeted by Shastri

Waiting to greet him were Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, a Hindu who was said at first to have opposed the Pope's visit to Hindu India, and Vice President Zakir Hussain, a Moslem.

"We rejoice in the honor of meeting you," the Pope said in his address to Shastri and Hussain. "We thank you for your great kindness in coming, at the cost of no little sacrifice, to bid us welcome to your land, and we salute you and the members of your government of India with deference and respect."

After praising India for its efforts for world peace, the Pope added:

"We come as a pilgrim, a pilgrim of peace, of joy and love. We greet all the Indian people, every man, woman and child. And we extend our greeting to all the nations of Asia, to every nation in the world."

"May they always remember that all men are brothers under the fatherhood of the Divinity. May they learn to love one another, to respect one another and avoid violating the rights of others."

While there were nearly 100,000 people in the streets, the Pope said he would stay in Bombay for 10 days.

Rusk, Gromyko Have Second Conference

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk scheduled a second meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today in an effort to win Soviet agreement to help pay for peace-keeping operations of the United Nations.

A last-minute accord Tuesday postponing a showdown at the General Assembly opened the way for basic financial negotiations starting at a luncheon meeting of Gromyko and Rusk at the headquarters of the Soviet U.N. mission.

U.S. sources expected other East-West issues would come up also, including disarmament, trade and a U.S.-Soviet consular agreement.

Sets Churches Afire

Philadelphia Arsonist Brags of His Activity

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — After a church fire last Friday, fire officials found a note significantly to the fire charts, I that warned: "I'll burn three more churches like I did in Boston."

Officials believe he is responsible for three church fires in Philadelphia in the past five days and possibly, four recent ones in Boston.

"You will have no rest until I leave. You will find one who knows what he is doing," said one note from the boastful arsonist.

Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary ordered patrol cars to make special round-the-clock checks of all schools and churches until further notice.

Police were alerted to watch for anyone with a New England accent seen loitering near a church. However, telephone operators who received the anonymous call at the newspaper said they heard no trace of an accent, and you failed to recognize.

The operators said the caller sounded "refined, well-educated." They said the caller identified himself as "the chap who has been burning the churches." Then he told them "go to the mailbox at Fifth and Chestnut." The note, was found there.

Although Pope Paul's air trip Tuesday began in a hard rain it ended in brilliant sunshine at Bombay, India, where the pontiff is to attend the 38th International Eucharistic Congress. This is the longest mission ever undertaken by a Catholic pope. (AP Wirephoto)

Brazil Detains Peron After He Lands in Rio de Janeiro

Former Argentine Dictator
To be Returned to Spain

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Brazil abruptly halted Juan D. Peron on his arrival from Madrid, Spain, today with the aim of eventually returning him to Argentina.

It was made plain Peron, 69, would be unwelcome in Montevideo, the Uruguayan capital to which he had been bound, and in Asuncion, Paraguay, where he wanted to live until he felt the time was ripe for return to the nation from which he was ejected by a bloody revolt in 1955.

Rest of Flight Canceled
The Iberia airliner which carried Peron from Spain, where he had lived luxuriously since 1960, was held up nearly two hours at the Rio de Janeiro airport and the Iberia company finally announced cancellation of its scheduled run on to Montevideo.

Peron quit the plane with Joao Lamprea Grace, the Foreign Ministry's chief of protocol, and left the airfield by a back gate in a government limousine. He looked calm. With him was a woman, unidentified.

"He will not go on," Lamprea said. Lamprea said Peron will be returned to Spain, though there were questions in Madrid as to whether he would be readmitted in view of his back-to-Argentina political activities.

It was reported unofficially that Peron would be detained at the military section of the airfield until the Iberia plane heads back to Madrid tonight.

In Buenos Aires, troops and police were placed on the alert against any disturbances by Peron's followers. The Defense Ministry said the armed forces would bar any attempt to put him back in power.

The cancellation of the flight to Montevideo came after the Uruguayan Aeronautics Board announced Peron's plane would not be allowed to land.

Paraquay Bars Him
In Asuncion, a source close to President Alfredo Stroessner said Peron would not be permitted to light in Paraguay even if he managed to get through. Officially Stroessner, once a close friend of Peron, was silent.

Stroessner at one time made Peron an honorary general of Paraguay's armed forces. As a result, Peron carries a Paraguayan passport.

Assembly's New Majority
Party Organizes at Caucus

MADISON (AP) — Robert T. Huber will be speaker of the Assembly at the next session of the Legislature. He was named Tuesday at a caucus by his Democratic colleagues, who will hold a 52-48 majority in the Assembly.

Huber has been close enough to the speaker's chair to almost reach out and grab it for many sessions, and during that time he developed positive ideas about the post.

"A speaker's long suit must be his ability to treat both sides fairly, besides keeping his own party unified and keep the wheels of the Assembly rolling," he said.

A merchandising salesman for a Milwaukee brewery, Huber believes the image of the Legislature must be upgraded this session.

Assaults "Bickering"
"No legislator was held in high regard during the last term because of the continual bickering," he said. "The public soon finds out who is responsible and who is just playing politics."

Huber, a native of Eckelson, N.D., graduated from West Allis Central High School. He represents the city of West Allis and three wards in West Allis, an area he describes as a "blue collar" area.

Guerrillas Kill 14 During Raid in South Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong wiped out a government district headquarters Tuesday, seizing enough weapons to arm a reinforced guerrilla company.

About 300 Viet Cong smashed their way into the town of Thien Giao, 100 miles northeast of Saigon, and killed the district chief and 13 of his men. The Communists escaped with 113 weapons, including 33 machine guns.

Thirty defenders were wounded and six were missing. Two Viet Cong were reported killed in the fight.

The force at Thien Giao radioed the military headquarters at the coastal town of Phan Thiet for reinforcements. Flare-dropping planes and fighters arrived within an hour. Two companies of ground troops also were dispatched.

By the time the ground troops arrived a little before dawn, the Viet Cong had left with their booty. They also carried off two radios and destroyed the district headquarters building and a munitions dump.

6 Indonesians Slain In Malaysian Clash

KUCHING, Malaysia (AP) — A British Gurkha patrol killed six Indonesian guerrillas in a jungle clash in Malaysia's Borneo state of Sarawak, a military spokesman said today.

One Gurkha was slightly wounded, the spokesman said.

Budget Talks Raise Fair Housing Issue

Knowles Asks About Position of State Industrial Commission

MADISON — The politically sensitive issue of fair housing rules popped unexpectedly into the budget deliberations of Gov.-elect Warren P. Knowles Tuesday, as he examined the hugely increased operating fund requests of the state labor department, officially known as the state industrial commission.

There were these developments:

1. The Republican who will be installed as governor in January asked whether he had been informed correctly that the commission under a 19-year-old fair employment law is claiming jurisdiction in the field of enforcing a fair housing rule.

2. Matthias Schimenz, chairman of the commission, said the commission has taken such a position and that it is prepared to act accordingly.

Otto Disagrees

3. George Otto, junior member of the commission, broke in to say that the commission took that position by a divided two to one vote, and that he emphatically disagrees that the legislature intended to give the commission authority in the housing field, except as housing questions may relate to employer-labor relations.

Backdrop for the discussions was the awareness of all politicians in the hearing room that the issue of fair housing legislation has been one of the hottest in state politics for several years, and that recent legislatures have fought to a standstill over unsuccessful proposals for enactment of a direct state law prohibiting discrimination in the sale or rental of housing.

The last bill on the subject failed a year ago in spite of ardent efforts of retiring Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds.

Had Few Complaints

Gov.-elect Knowles, who is already under some pressure to sponsor a housing act in the new legislature next year, made no comment about his own position, but at one point he inquired whether the issue is not more properly one for the jurisdiction of the Governor's Commission on Human Rights. Schimenz shot back that he did not agree, although he also said that since his department last May declared its own readiness to enforce the fair housing idea, it has had very few complaints about housing discrimination upon which to act.

Schimenz also disclosed that Gov. Reynolds, when he was attorney general, had interpreted the law as meaning the industrial commission did not have jurisdiction in the housing field. Later as governor, Reynolds had advised the commission to select a test case for adjudication in the courts, Schimenz said, but such a case has not yet been found.

Proposed College Plans to be Aired

Developments to be Discussed by Education Group in Kaukauna

Developments in the four-year school has changed with the college proposal for the Fox River Valley will be aired at a meeting of the Northeastern Wisconsin Education Committee at 8:30 a.m. Friday at the Kaukauna Legion hall.

Mayors of the area and local committee members have been invited to attend.

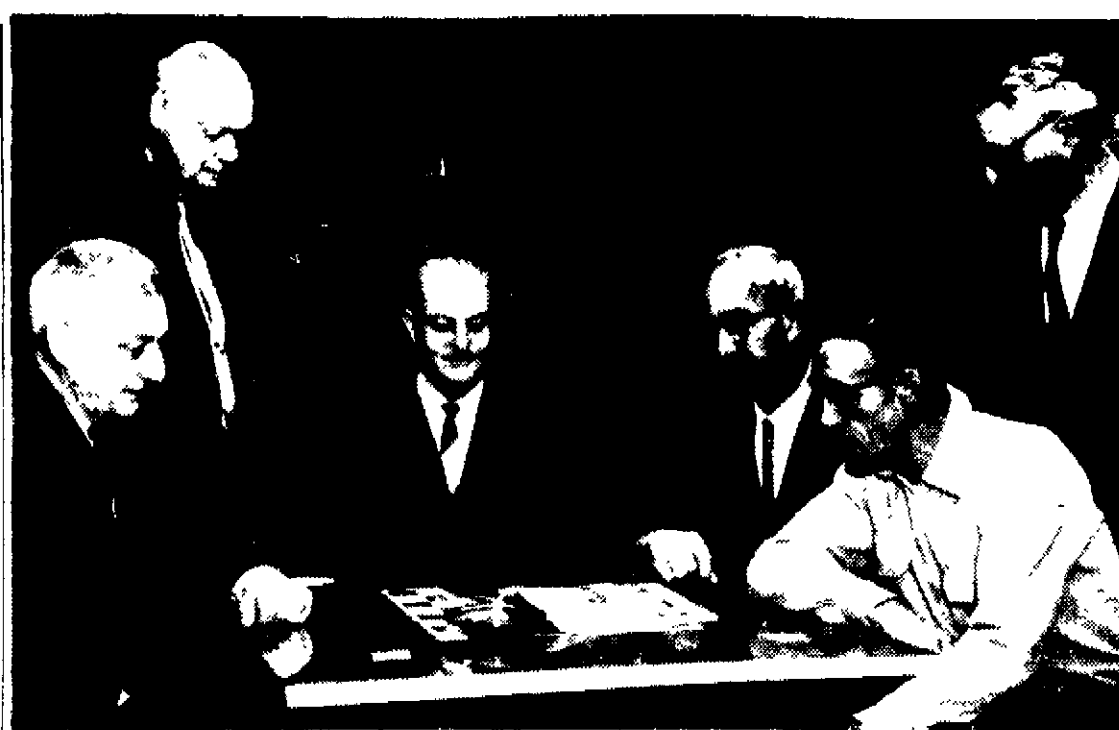

Knowles Cautious
A committee named by Gov. John Reynolds earlier recommended a site in southwestern Green Bay for the new school after rejecting sites in Outagamie County near Appleton and Kaukauna. A site near De Pere on Highway 41 was second choice.

However Gov.-elect Warren Knowles Monday indicated he will be cautious about spending money for this school and another proposed for the Racine-Kenosha area. He noted there were no funds to build the two new campuses and said a decision should be delayed until the State Coordinating Committee for Higher Education has developed a master plan that would meet education and training needs to help business and industry expand.

Meanwhile the Green Bay City Council Tuesday pledged unanimously its complete cooperation with state agencies to make a four-year university in Green Bay a reality including giving 110 city-owned acres of the proposed site "if the state deems this necessary."

The overwhelming approval of the amendment was voted over the opposition of Mayor Roman Denissen, who said the land offer was premature.

"Offer Called For"
Ald. Robert Houle said the land offer was called for "in view of the developments of the last week." He said aldermen should recognize that the site report already is under attack and that the situation toward the

Little Chute Budget Adopted Not Altered After Hearing

Residents Query School Increases; Ask Cost on Joining Other Districts

LITTLE CHUTE — The village board Tuesday night approved a 1965 budget calling for expenditures of $633,575 of which $477,287 is to be raised by the tax levy.

Tax rate per $1,000 assessed valuation will be up $10.25 to $66 for residents in school district No. 1, comprising the majority of the village, and will be down $1.55 to $49.10 for residents of school district No. 2.

Special Session Set In City-Union Fight

St. Elizabeth Is Installing Two Boilers

Installation of two new boilers as part of the St. Elizabeth Hospital expansion program has been started.

The new gas-fired, water-tube boilers will be installed, replacing the present coal-fired boiler system, and the boiler room is undergoing a complete renovation.

The new boilers together are capable of producing the minimum expected requirement of 40 million pounds of steam per year. They will be convertible in a matter of minutes from gas to oil or vice versa, in the event of a failure of the fuel supply.

Because the present furnace system must be removed before the second new boiler can be installed, the hospital will be operating on one boiler for about two months. The first new boiler is expected to be in operation by Dec. 20. One boiler is capable of heating the present hospital.

Water softening equipment also is being installed.

Police to View Radar, Speed Demonstration

Outagamie County police, other officials and members of the police and traffic committee will witness a demonstration of radar and speed timing at 9:30 a.m. Thursday on U.S. 41 at State 47.

Traffic Capt. Ronald Decker said the machine which is to be demonstrated may be purchased sometime next year by the county for traffic patrol work.

Factfinder's Written Report to Be Given Council Tonight, Then Referred to Personnel Committee

Reacting to a request that he intervene in a labor dispute between the city and Teamsters Local 563, Mayor Clarence Mitchell today said he will not bring the matter before the city council tonight for discussion.

But Mitchell did announce shortly after noon that he will call an informal meeting of the council next Wednesday night to discuss the recent Wisconsin Employment Relations Board (WERB) factfinder's report.

Mitchell said the report would be received tonight under "new business" at the end of the meeting.

Women Voters To Serve Coffee

Appleton aldermen will have something to settle their nerves after tonight's council meeting—a coffee hour.

Appleton League of Women Voters has invited city officials to be its guest in the Reddy Room of the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co.

"We hope you will be able to join us for the opportunity of getting acquainted," wrote Mrs. Mojmir Povolny, league president.

The council agenda shows the hour may be late.

ing and would automatically be referred to the personnel committee. He said this was agreed to by the council. The council could then take official action on the report at its regular Dec. 16 meeting.

Mitchell said.

Firemen Hold Joint Meeting

Valley Departments Meet in Little Chute To Study Problems

LITTLE CHUTE—Fire fighting personnel from throughout the Fox River Valley gathered for a dinner meeting and round table discussion of mutual problems here Tuesday.

Fire chiefs, assistants and training officers from paid and volunteer fire units formed an association of valley units about a year ago to discuss cooperation in providing the area with the best possible form of fire protection.

Action to allow joint planning was taken as communities began to spread out with municipal residential areas reaching into each other, separated only by a roadway.

Every few months the fire fighters gather for a dinner and general discussion on fire fighting methods and equipment needs. Chiefs are then able to keep abreast of types of assistance which may be expected from other departments in event of a major disaster in their community.

Volunteer units are included since their water lines at times are more readily available for use in a neighboring community than are professional companies. It was felt they contribute much to the over-all Fox Valley fire protection picture.

Combined Locks Rate Increased $5

Approve 1965 Village Budget of $522,546, Tax Levy of $427,898

COMBINED LOCKS — Residents will pay $5 more per $1,000 tax rate in 1965 as a result of a $522,546 budget approved by the village board Tuesday night. Of this total, $427,898 is to be raised by tax levy at a rate of $36.50.

Last year's budget was $513,370 of which $382,170 was raised by taxes with a rate of $31 per $1,000. A portion of the increase in rate comes as a result of a $408,140 decrease in assessed value to $11,723,250. The total budget is only $9,176 higher than 1964. Tax levy increase amounts to $45,728.

Education and recreation costs for 1965 amount to $291,882, an increase of $21,657 over 1964. General government costs increased $1,773 to $18,650, protection of persons and property decreased $900 to $22,000, fire department expense decreased $3,300 to $4,500, health and sanitation costs remain at $5,650. Chiefs are then able to keep abreast of types of assistance which may be expected from other departments in event of a major disaster in their community.

Street department salaries went up $1,000 to $24,500 and a $1,500 appropriation was planned for 1965 for equipment purchase. No equipment purchases were made in 1964, but $21,000 was paid for the addition to the village garage. Village indebtedness payments in 1964 will amount to $26,650, $570 less than 1964.

State taxes in 1965 will be $3-

Appleton Tax Share Will be $322,789

The state tax department announced today Appleton will receive $322,789 in its third and final state-shared income tax payment.

This brings the total of shared individual and corporate income tax payments for the year to $1,440,052 for the city.

However, Finance Director Donald E. Hassler said the year's total is about $10,000 less than estimated in the 1964 budget.

"It means the city's surplus for the current year will be reduced by $10,000," Hassler said. The city had hoped to receive $1,450,000.

Last year, Appleton's tax apportionment was $1,415,065.

City Treasurer Ray F. Feuerstein said his office had not received the check from the state yet but expected it soon. In June the state sent the city $551,736 and in October the payment was $565,526.

The apportionment is based on taxes paid the state by Appleton residents and corporations in 1963.

Workmen Have Started lowering the first of two new boilers into the boiler room at St. Elizabeth Hospital as part of the hospital's $7.3 million expansion program. Menasha Urged to Pass Law on Utility Service Out of City

Attorney Cites Current Appleton Dispute With Town of Menasha

MENASHA — City Atty. Richard Steffens urged the common council Tuesday night to act expeditiously in enacting an ordinance defining the limits to which it will provide various utility services beyond the city limits.

The action is necessary to avoid being forced to provide services beyond the present lines in the Town of Menasha, Steffens said.

The council authorized Mayor John Klein to appoint a special committee to investigate and draw up an ordinance. He said he would notify the appointees to the committee by mail.

Steffens said the present Appleton situation where the city is fighting an order to supply water in the Town of Menasha could have a far reaching effect on the city of Menasha. At present time, he said, Menasha provides water, electric power and sewer service beyond the city limits into the Town of Menasha.

In Appleton, the city had only a policy that it would not extend services beyond the city limits.

A church constructed a new building in the Town of Menasha and asked to be supplied water by Appleton. The request was denied in keeping with the city's policy. The church took its case to the Public Service Commission which in turn ordered the city to provide water.

The basis of the order was that a city water line serving the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center passed in front of the church.

Council Can't Agree on New Police Car

Specifications Will Be Redrawn for Kaukauna Vehicle

KAUKAUNA — City council was unable to agree on specifications for a new squad car Tuesday night and authorized the public protection and safety committee to draw up new specifications and readvertise for bids.

The committee held three meetings to set specifications, but when it came time for bidding, bids were received on vehicles considered unsuitable for a squad car. The many models of cars of various makes now on the market causes aldermen some concern in drawing specifications for the car.

Aldermen do not want to eliminate any bidders, but are not in favor of a compact or low-horsepower car. Bids prepared to date have met or approached specifications, but yet some dealers have been unable to meet full specifications.

The city engineer was instructed to secure written proposals from firms able to aid the city with snow removal and submit them to the board of public works. Action was taken after Ald. Aussel Dix (4th) objected to a proposal submitted last year being reoffered without additional offers being secured.

Ordinance changes were approved raising fees for electrical contractors and revising the city gas ordinance regarding types of installation approved, as recommended by the gas inspector.

Charging the school district $500 over the cost of rental of high school facilities for use of the Dots Bayougeon recreation area was approved. The school district used the recreation site for baseball, football and track. The city recreation department uses high and grade school facilities for basketball, volleyball and other programs.

The school has established a rental fee for use of school facilities and the city in turn will charge the district for athletic field use. The agreement will be reviewed by both the school board and city council periodically.

Aldermen voted to set aside 7.5 acres of land in the recently annexed area for school purposes to serve as a park site. The 31-acre site is being purchased by the school district and details as to the property reserved for park will be worked out later with the school board. The wooded property is located near the south city limits.

Extension of AVS Boundary Delayed

Town Boards Already Have Set Tax Levies; Push Plan Next Year

Extension of the Appleton Vocational and Adult School district boundaries to coincide with tuition to attend the vocational those of the Appleton joint school district will be postponed until next year because town boards have already certified their tax rates for 1965.

Vocational school officials have met with city and town officials and received support for the proposed extension of boundaries. However, because town budgets already approved for 1965 do not include their share of vocational school taxes, it has been decided to postpone the boundary change for a year.

State law requires approval by the city council and the Board of Education to make the boundary change. The vocational school district now includes only the city of Appleton, while the joint school district, in addition to the city, also includes most of the Town of Grand Chute and parts of the towns of Buchanan, Harrison and Menasha.

Although no action is required by town boards to make the change, AVS officials met with them to explain the proposal.

The Appleton City Council's finance committee has approved the change and was prepared to recommend a resolution on it to the city council. The committee has agreed to postpone action, AVS Director Carl Bertram said. The Board of Education also has indicated support for the change but has not taken formal action.

The council and school board will be asked to take action before next Oct. 1 so the change can become effective Jan. 1, 1966, Bertram said.

Bertram recommended the boundary extension to eliminate misunderstandings by residents

CNW Starts Suit to Fight Assessment

The Chicago & North Western Railway Co. is starting another lawsuit against the City of Appleton — this time to fight a $484.40 street assessment.

Notice of the suit, which will be tried in Outagamie County Circuit Court, was served on city officials Tuesday by the Milwaukee law firm representing the railroad.

The North Western is protesting its being assessed for the grading and graveling of the Washington - Franklin Street extension. The assessment is on property it owns.

The railroad claims the assessment is unconstitutional and contrary to state law. The North Western contends it is being damaged as a result of the street improvements.

The railroad also claims the assessment is contrary to a public service commission order that said the City of Appleton should construct approaches to the tracks at the grade crossings at its own expense.

In another action, pending in Dane County Circuit Court, the railroad is fighting the PSC order which granted the city the street extension and two new grade crossings.

Testifies Ivan Mueller Ignored Warning; Drove Truck Into NFO Pickets at Bonduel

Post-Crescent News Service

SHAWANO — A Shawano County deputy sheriff, testifying Tuesday afternoon in the reckless homicide preliminary hearing of Cecil truck driver Ivan Mueller, said he signaled for Mueller to stop just before his truck drove through a crowd of National Farmers Organization pickets at the Equity Co-Op yards at Bonduel, killed two of the men.

The testimony of Walter Banaszynski, an 18-year veteran of the department, concluded the first day of the hearing in a packed Circuit Courtroom before Outagamie County Judge Raymond Dohr, Appleton. Dohr was appointed to hear the case after Shawano County Judge Kenneth Tager disqualified himself on the basis of a writ of prejudice filed by the defense.

Testimony will continue today, and it may be sometime Thursday before Judge Dohr decides whether to bind the 39-year-old Mueller over for trial on the charge of causing by reckless conduct the deaths of Howard Falk, 64, of rural Bonduel and Melvin Cummings, 44, of rural Antigo in front of the south gate of the Equity Livestock Co-Op last Sept. 9.

Part of Crowd
Falk and Cummings were part of a crowd of NFO pickets estimated by authorities to run from 400 to 500 persons. They were attempting to block the entry of livestock trucks to the cooperative as part of the NFO's national livestock holding action.

Banaszynski, under questioning by Dist. Atty. Michael Eberlein, related that he and three other deputies were stationed at State 117 at the gates when about 400 farmers gathered by 10:30 a.m.

The deputy said Mueller approached from the north and had his right turn signal on when he turned into the driveway where the mass of people halted his progress.

After Mueller backed the truck up about five feet, Banaszynski testified, I held my hand up so he wouldn't start the truck, but he ran in anyway. We didn't have time to get any of the people out of the way.

The deputy, who said he was in front of the cattle truck and less than five feet from the cab, noted that he wanted to hold Mueller up until police could clear the crowd away from the gate.

Car Thieves Make Tracks Too Lightly

Car thieves apparently ran out of gasoline in the car which they took from an industrial parking lot late Tuesday night, but their luck held out as police failed to trace their getaway in the recently-fallen snow.

Harland Klika, 1415 E. Taft St., reported his 1964 model car gone from the lot at the Riverside Paper Co., about 10:45 p.m. Two hours later police found the car with engine still warm, abandoned and out of gasoline in the middle of the W. College and S. Walter avenues intersection.

Police followed footprints leading from the car down through the Lawrence University football stadium, but lost them as the thieves left the stadium on E. South River Street.

Klika was notified of the recovery and reported his car had been driven 53 miles before it was abandoned both districts amounts to $14.57 of the rate and county and state taxes take $8.82 of the rate.

Based on the $7,400,935 assessed value, residential property owners pay over 75 per cent of the taxes, business over 13 per cent, industry over three per cent, agricultural over one per cent and personal property slightly over six per cent.

Budget Breakdown
General government costs increased $1,340 to $31,090 in 1965. Protection of persons and property was increased $2,197 to $49,169. Health and sanitation costs dropped $200 to $4,800, relief and welfare costs were held at $3,000, highway and bridge costs increased $5,800 to $84,000.

The deputy also said that he was dressed in full uniform with badge and shoulder insignia when he signalled Mueller to stop in the crowded driveway. He also said that the trucker did not sound his horn before driving into the crowd of pickets.

He also said he saw two men struck by the truck and fall to the ground, but he couldn't tell if they were Cummings and Falk.

Set Special Session on Labor Dispute said city representatives were asked to do the same but declined.

The personnel committee has been consistent in its position the council must have the final say in such matters.

Formal Vote
Last week, Schlieve said, the unionized employees in the department of public works voted formally to concur in the factfinder's recommendations.

He said the union has been available for meetings with the personnel committee, but no joint meetings have been held.

"In spite of the considerable time and expense which was incurred by the city in securing this (factfinder's) recommendation it appears now that no meeting will be held prior to the council meeting of Dec. 2," Schlieve wrote.

Mitchell said he would contact Ald. E. V. Krueger (11th) personnel committee chairman, "to see what the committee intends to do."

Established Procedures
"If I would bring this before the council tonight I would be by-passing the committee and not following the procedures which have been established to handle such matters," Mitchell said.

"I feel a recommendation on the factfinder's report should come through the committee," Mitchell said.

"Should the council want to go into a committee of the whole, then it can discuss the matter and come out with its report," he said.

The bill from the factfinder, amounting to $1,133 was received today and will be paid jointly by the union and the city. The hearing cost $566 and the city has paid almost $2,000 in legal fees and expenses to attorney Robert Sundby of Madison in connection with factfinding.

Methodists and Soviets Waging A Quiet Battle

BY PRESTON GROVER

LES OUAHIA. Algeria (AP) — The Methodist Church and the Soviet Communist party are waging a quiet battle for souls in this little upland village in central Algeria.

The Russians have arrived in numbers, assisted by groups from satellite countries. Matched against them are the Rev. John Paolini, from Cranbury, N.J., and his wife, Marilyn. He has been a Methodist minister for 10 years, four of them in Algeria and the past 14 months in this village.

The Russians have started building a village for Algerians not far from here. The job started with considerable fanfare six months ago but has slowed down. Young Russians, Yugoslavs, Czechs, Bulgarians and Algerians are living in tents near a wooden headquarters which displays pictures of Alexei N. Kossygin, new premier of the Soviet Union, and Todor Zhivkov, premier of Bulgaria.

Young men come from the Soviet Union and satellites to work two to four months constructing the village. The aim is to build a model farm village with tile and brick apartment houses instead of the rock houses usual in this part of the country. They are running a small school, teaching French to Algerian teenagers who didn't write any language at all. Signs in the headquarters urge everybody to work for communism and against corruption, capitalism and dishonesty. One of Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella's slogans die for the country.

Paolini has his home a short distance away, in the village. Russians have called on him and he has visited the Soviet camp but they don't see much of one another. He runs a library where he teaches French and English to Algerians. His wife teaches a kindergarten and primary class. In a little church he preaches in French and a translator converts it into Kabylie since this is Kabylie country — an old center of resistance against the French.

"I tell them stories from the Bible," he said. "They like the stories where the good people triumph over the bad."

Bible Stories

Many of those Bible stories also are in the Koran, and they sound familiar to some of the 150 or so villagers who crowd into the church on Sunday.

Recently the League of Algerian Youth invited him to give English lessons in their clubhouse. The first night was a great success but when he came the second night it was clear they had not asked permission from the elders. Evidently orders had been handed down against it, for he was met by blank faces everywhere. He accepted it with good nature and dropped the project.

Young people come to his library located conveniently in a main street of the village. It is far better stocked than the library in the Soviet camp, but he would like more illustrated American magazines.

Soviet Camp

The Soviet camp will contain a small hospital. The Methodists have been running a hospital at Zeoui, also in the Kabylie country, for more than 30 years.

The Russians are expected to bring in machinery to show the villagers modern farming. That will make an impression, but so far the pastor is doing all right.

The minister's father, Anthony, a tool maker who was born in Italy, lives at Collingwood,

Improved Artificial Kidney Being Used By India Businessman

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The first production model of the artificial kidney developed at the University of Washington was put in use Monday to help a businessman from Madras, India.

He is Shaym Sundar Sonthalia, owner of a foundry and machine shop and also a Madras stockbroker.

Sonthalia has been under treatment in Madras with an artificial kidney system developed by Dr. Belding Scribner of the university's School of Medicine. However, the new model used here is greatly simplified.

Instead of two treatments a week of 12 to 14 hours each, the new system is used three times a week for only six hours at a time. It can be used at home.

Xavier Students Plan Leader Workshop

3rd Annual Program
To Feature Talk by Lawrence Official

The girl's student council of Xavier High School is making arrangements for the third annual Leadership Workshop at Xavier from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. Dec. 12.

The girls' council will be assisted by the Boys' student council of Xavier in this endeavor. General chairmen are William Whitehead and Mary Jo DeNoble. The purposes for the workshop, according to the chairmen, are to contribute to the total educational growth of all students, to provide a learning experience in leadership and solution of common problems, and to promote the general welfare of the schools.

Workshop theme this year is "Look, Listen, Then Lead." The afternoon program, starting with the keynote speech by Tony Valukas and continuing through individual workshops, will follow this theme.

Valukas, president of Lawrence University student body, will talk on the development of potential leadership in the student. The workshops following will develop this idea further.

"Swap Shop," an exchange of ideas among the schools represented, will be directed by Pam Moehring and Pat Planagan, with John Rankin serving as their ideas' chairman. Kay Kadow and Thomas Hahn will guide a discussion on the "Making of a Leader." Mary Jo DeNoble will work as their ideas' chairman.

Name Directors
A workshop on "Dynamics of Group Leadership" will be presented under the direction of Margaret Gorski and Thomas Rankin. Patricia Thielman will act as their ideas' chairman. Martin Verhoeven and Karen Brown will lead a group meeting on "Communication." Ideas' chairman will be Diane Kamys.

A session on "School and Community Relations" will be held under the direction of William Weyenberg. Peggy Helms and Paul Dresang. Brother Lawrence is helping to arrange another sectional meeting on "Group Discrimination," which Judy Quella and a member of the boys' student body will present.

All Xavier students have been invited to attend the Leadership Workshop. Students from Lourdes High School of Oshkosh and the officers of the student council of Appleton Senior High School have also been invited to attend.

Sue DeNoble is chairman of the registration committee and Kathy Verhoeven is in charge of refreshments. Patricia Moriarity will head a committee for ushering.

Registration is open, according to Miss DeNoble, until Nov. 20. The fee of 25 cents can be given to any Xavier student council representative or mailed to Sue DeNoble at Xavier High School.

Loan Sharks Reported on Wall Street

Testimony Given to State Commission Investigating Crime Syndicate Interests

NEW YORK (AP) — Testimony also ny about the nationwide loan shark racket reveals a stealthy invasion of Wall Street and desperate borrowers forced to stake their lives and businesses as collateral.

Witnesses at the opening of six days of public hearings before the State Commission of Investigation Tuesday also told of the part played by the Mafia crime syndicate in the high-interest loan racket.

Interest Paid
Commission Chairman Jacob Grumet led off by saying New York State laws are weak and confusing on loan practices. He said the "most nefarious and vicious practices" permit the criminal underworld to pocket millions of dollars. Interest rates often are 2 to 5 per cent a week.

One small-business operator testified he had paid more than $1,000 in interest in six years on

Dave Beck to Be on Parole By Dec. 11th

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dave Beck, onetime Teamsters Union head who has served nearly half of a five-year prison sentence for income tax fraud, will be freed on parole on Dec. 11 from the U.S. penitentiary on McNeil Island near Tacoma, Wash.

Parole was granted Beck Tuesday. Beck, now 70, was fined $20,000 in addition to his jail sentence in Tacoma, Wash., on Feb. 27, 1959, on charges of filing fraudulent tax returns for the union's Joint Council Building Association in Seattle, Wash.

He began serving the sentence June 20, 1962, after he lost his appeals fight. He won reversal of his conviction of evading more than $240,000 in personal income taxes.

Specialist Says Some Heart Disease May be Imaginary

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Some heart disease may be imaginary — brought on by the patient's fears and his doctor's words or attitudes, a heart specialist said today.

The patients may have symptoms ranging from chest pains to dizziness, from fatigue to palpitations, explained Dr. John W. Keyes, of Detroit's Henry Ford Hospital.

"Once symptoms of this type have occurred, they of themselves can produce a vicious cycle of anxiety which convinces the patient that heart disease is actually present," he said.

Doctors should take special measures with patients they know to have some emotional

Goldwater Plans to Discuss Party Future With Nixon and Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said today he plans to meet soon with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon for a "general discussion" of the Republican party's future course.

The defeated GOP presidential nominee said in an interview on his return to Washington from Phoenix, Ariz., that he doesn't know where the summit conference discussion will lead. But he indicated he is willing to cooperate with the former president in trying to bring peace among the bickering factions of the Republican party.

Meeting Delayed
Goldwater said the meeting originally had been scheduled for next Thursday at Eisenhower's office at Gettysburg, Pa., but had to be delayed because of Nixon's trip to Japan. He added, however, he hopes it can be fitted into the schedules of all three principals before his return to Arizona next week.

Goldwater made it clear he would encourage the formation of the kind of advisory council suggested by some GOP governors and other party leaders to bring all factions into the formation of future party policy.

"I tried to get Milton Eisenhower's group to continue its work," he said. "I thought they were making some headway."

Ike's Brother
Eisenhower, brother of the former president and head of Johns Hopkins University, is chairman of the Republican Central Committee.

Asked when he intended to "speak out," the Arizona senator replied he will do so when his newspaper column is resumed in January. He suspended publication of this column when he became an announced candidate for the GOP presidential nomination early this year.

Hoover Says FBI Infiltrated Racist Groups

Negro Leader Told Arrests Expected in Civil Rights Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — J. Edgar Hoover told Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Tuesday that the FBI has infiltrated the Ku Klux Klan and other racist groups much as it did the Communist party, it was learned after the two had chatted in the FBI director's office.

And, King told reporters after the 14-hour session, Hoover indicated arrests will be made in the next few days in the slaying of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss.

King requested the meeting and Hoover agreed to it. There was no comment from the FBI director afterward, but King, a leader in the Negroes' drive for equal opportunities and rights, told newsmen: "I might say the discussion was quite amicable."

Last month, Hoover departed from his general practice of not granting interviews and told a group of women reporters King was "the most notorious liar in this country."

King, a minister and a winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, had claimed FBI agents in Georgia, because they were Southerners, did not investigate complaints from Negroes.

Later, the Negro leader said Hoover "has apparently faltered under the awesome burden, complexities and responsibilities of his office."

Hoover's disclosure of FBI infiltration into racist organizations is the first to this effect. His comment that arrests in the Philadelphia slayings will be made in the next few days follows an FBI announcement of last week that "we know who is responsible."

Last Aug. 4, FBI agents found the bodies of the three rights workers — Michael H. Schwerner, 24, Andrew Goodman, 20, and James E. Chaney, 21 — in a field of 40 candidates and will compete for national honors.

Direct Selling
Ranks Swell
To 1.5 Million
Housewife Advised
To Check Carefully
Itinerant Salesmen

BY SYLVIA PORTER
Not ever has direct selling to you the American housewife, in your own home, been on the awesome scale it is today. More than 1.5 million salesmen and saleswomen are now roaming the nation, daily ringing our doorbells, offering us a bewildering variety of goods and services ranging from the traditional brooms and brushes to decorating assistance and mutual funds.

Not ever have so many companies of such high calibre been in the direct selling field. It's estimated there are 3,000 direct selling companies in the U.S. today doing an annual business of approximately $3 billion. Some of the individual companies gross well above $100 million a year, and such retail giants as Sears Roebuck are exploring the direct selling ranks. Direct selling has come of age in the 1960s, has become a ma-

For part of our modern distribution system—and, of course, the overwhelming majority in the field are honest.
Direct Selling
But there is in direct selling—as there is in almost all fields—a racketeering fringe which can besmirch the reputations of all.
How can you tell whether the salesman ringing your doorbell is honest, whether his product is what he claims it to be? Here, from the National Assn. of Direct Selling Companies and the National Better Business Bureau, are key guidelines for you:
(1) Beware of the salesman who doesn't offer credentials or who represents a company whose name you don't recognize. You can check on both by calling the Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce; they keep lists of reputable direct selling companies.
(2) Beware of itinerants, particularly teams of magazine subscription salesmen who take their high-pressure tactics from area to area. The reputable salesman probably lives nearby, has an established home. His business depends on satisfied customers and he knows word will get around if the products he sells are shoddy.
(3) Beware of "bargains." There are none in this business and this claim may signal an inflated price or a piece of junk. Door-to-door products usually are priced competitively or slightly more than similar products in stores, for obviously this personal service costs something.
Phony Premise
(4) Beware of the "phony premise" — for instance, the salesman who tells you he's "conducting an educational survey" and then turns out to be selling a product. Reputable companies insist that their salesmen come right out and say what they're there for.
(5) Beware of the high-pressure salesman who trades on his physical handicap. Many

Brazil Looks Forward Confidently to Future
Under Guidance of New President Image at Home, Abroad Enhanced
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Brazil today, seven months after a nearly bloodless revolution ousted Joao Goulart and his proleptist government, looks confidently to the future — more so than in years.
Pay increases now are more orderly. Price increases are regulated. But inflation still is at a dizzy pace. The cruzeiro is at the almost all-time high of 1,700 to the U.S. dollar after having steadied temporarily at 1,200 immediately after the revolution. Two years ago it was 600 to the dollar.
Target Date
Finance Minister Otavio Gouveia de Bulhoes has optimistically set next June as target date for checking the galloping inflation and stabilizing the economy.
For the government, it is still a time for massive financial assistance.
Roberto Campos, economic planning minister, back from a money-hunting mission in Washington, said that Brazil needs a billion dollars to meet the deficit in its balance of payments in 1965 and 1966. More aid will be needed to grease the machinery of development necessary for the firm future of this nation whose population in less than a decade will total 100 million.
For the average Brazilian, it is still very much a time for belt tightening in the face of mounting prices for food, clothing and shelter.
Brighter Prospects
But prospects for help are brighter than they were while Goulart's leftist anti-Alliance for Progress administration frightened foreign investments.
Alliance for Progress aid has increased sharply since the revolution. Foreign investment interest has revived.
Long Confident of Post in Senate
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., believes he will be chosen by his Democratic colleagues to be assistant majority leader of the Senate.
"I've got 39 or 40 votes if I run against only one or two others," Long said Sunday on "Issues and Answers," an ABC radio-television program. He foresaw additional support from a dozen or more uncommitted senators.
His announced rivals for the whip post being vacated by Vice president-elect Hubert H. Humphrey are Sens. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., and Mike Monroney, D-Okla.

Long History
Direct selling has had a long history since Yankee peddlers hawked linament and brassware at frontier farms in colonial days. Over the years, direct salesmen have pioneered products ranging from sewing and washing machines to safety razors and can openers which nobody believed would work until they actually saw a demonstration. Silk stockings also were introduced via the doorbell: decent ladies preferred to try on this revolutionary legwear in the privacy of their homes, just as today millions of women will try way-out makeup at home demonstrations.
Now, direct selling is shattering all previous records and is on its way to making new ones. By being aware of and thereby helping to eliminate the high-pressure fringe, you'll protect yourself and do a favor for all reputable direct sales companies and salesmen too.

an apple a day

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

Anyone shopping or eating downtown these days will know for sure that Appleton has become Appleton, U.S.A. in honor of the state's fruit growers meeting in convention here. Heaping bowls, baskets and tubs of apples are seen everywhere on display . . . ready and waiting for that dash of salt that always heightens their flavor with a delicious crispness and makes the fruit live up to the health slogan "an apple a day."

Eating apples out-of-hand is an old American custom. Apples have gone to school and work in lunch boxes for years. They have been used for snacking as long as there have been trees laden with the fruit. Today, fresh apples are eaten whole, sliced, in chunks, crescents as well as being made into cooked delicacies.

The apple pie long has been America's favorite dessert, particularly with a wedge of cheese to go with each piece. Apples have been used in cakes since the days of the colonists on the eastern seaboard . . . the pioneer homemakers brought treasured apple cake recipes west with them, against the day when their homesteads would boast an orchard.

The snow is served with a cooked custard sauce, but otherwise the recipe is uncooked.

Except for the Apple-Walnut Cake with its delightful Lemon-Butter Frosting, all the recipes use raw apples in combination with baked pastry and other "cooked" dishes. Two moderns are the Uncooked Apple Sauce and the handsome Red Apple Pie. Both depend upon a blender for their smoothness.

The Apple Snack borrows from the German cooks, who learned the trick long ago of combining sour cream with horseradish to serve with applesauce and roast goose or roast loin of pork. This snack is excellent for parties or as an appetizer before a special dinner. Apples such as Golden Delicious, McIntosh or Winesaps are good for this zesty dipping snack.

Golden Delicious or Yellow Greenings are suggested for the Apple Walnut Cake recipe by home economists from the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture.

So here they are . . . a wonderful batch of apple recipes in a year of a bountiful harvest. They're all worth trying.

Apples Lend Bright Touch to Holidays

Shiny red and handsome golden apples can serve the hostess well during this holiday season.

They make wonderful decorative effects and as one of the most popular edible out-of-hand fruits they may be served fresh and all shined up on a snack tray.

A snack buffet, boasting simply-made garlands of green leaves and sparkled with shiny red and golden Delicious apples and tall tapers, offers an acceptable-to-all-ages selection of finger foods.

Special dips, dunks, cheeses in holiday shapes, decorative bowls or baskets of in-season apples and pears are easily prepared and assembled. Apples can be arranged at a moment's notice for evening-long nibbling. Too, this kind of service may be easily replenished. Individual salt shakers placed strategically helps the nibbler enjoy his apples.

Perfect partner to the apples in our markets now are two colorful cheese spreads. One is shaped like a Christmas tree and garlanded with red apple swags. The other is a colorful red, green and white cheese

Red apple wedges
Crisp crackers
Fresh apple slices

Soften all cheeses at room temperature. With electric mixer combine all ingredients except parsley, apples and crackers. Fashion into Christmas tree shape, making special ridges from tip of tree to bottom. Keep dip chilled until serving time. Just before serving, sprinkle ridges with chopped parsley and decorate with tiny apple wedges. Serve with crackers and fresh apple slices. Recipe makes about four and one-half cups dip.

CHEESE-APPLE TREE
1/2 pound sharp American cheese
6 ounces cream cheese
4 ounces blue or Roquefort cheese
6 ounces nippy, smoke-flavored cheese
2 tablespoons horseradish
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons grated onion

1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup chopped parsley

Best Cure for Habitually Tardy Is Just Not Waiting for Them

BY ANN LANDERS
 DEAR ANN LANDERS: It appears to be the style, in at least some circles, to be consistently late to parties, church, sports events—everything. In most instances it does not seem to matter. In fact, theater curtains are held; sermons delayed; the soup is kept warm until the slowpokes arrive on the scene thus penalizing the considerate and the punctual.

Landers
 Am I wrong to feel it is rude and egotistical to be late unless there is an extremely good reason? Kindly comment on this. Also, if you have a "cure" for the snails I'd like to hear it.—J. C. F.
 Dear J. C. F.: It is egotistical and rude to arrive late unless an emergency caused the delay. The thoroughly disorganized and thoughtless (and neurotic) are beyond hope. But most folks will get there on time if courageous people refuse to cater to the tardy at the expense of the punctual.

 DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a girl who is in the ninth grade. Our physical education teacher is very hard to get along with. I used to think it was my fault but I've tried awfully hard to do everything just right and things are not better. I'm beginning to think it's partly her fault.
 We girls are supposed to run around the football field about four times. Then we are expected to take a shower, be out in three minutes, and line up in the nude so she can check us off. Some of the girls do not like standing around in the nude and I am one of them. It is especially embarrassing to the freshman. We have talked to girls who go to other schools and they don't have to do this. We don't know if we have the right to complain or who to complain to. Will you guide us, please?—Embarrassed
 Dear Embarrassed: I see no good reason why you girls can't line up and get checked out in your underwear.
 Those of you who are uncomfortable about the arrangement (and I don't blame you) should ask your mothers to get together and talk to the gym teacher—or the principal.
 DEAR ANN LANDERS: After 14 years of marriage, three children, two homes and six cars my husband got the idea I didn't know how to handle money and decided to take over "and show me how it's done."
 It is now six months later and here is where we stand: Gas and electric bills: two months overdue.

 Grocery bill: no more credit—cash only.
 Car payment: Thirty days late. Pay within 15 days or it's the bus for us.
 Life insurance: Pay the last three premiums or we lose the policy.
 Charitable pledge: Unpaid. All this seemed to hit us at once. When I asked what happened he accused me of taking money out of his wallet during the night. He knew better, of course.
 Now that things are all fouled up he wants me to handle the family budget again. Shall I? Or would it be best to let him sweat it out?—Looking Better All The Time
 Dear Looking Better: For heaven's sake, Lady, this isn't his problem, it's yours, too.
 Get back in there and get things squared away. Your husband should not be ashamed that you do a better job of handling money than he does. Most wives do. And I don't want to hear any beefs on this from my male readers. It's the beautiful truth, Boys.
 Do you lean on cigarettes as a social crutch? You may regret it later. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.
 Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Sheinwold Unknowns Can Make Expert Play

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
 When an expert makes a good play we call it brilliance. If an unknown player does the same thing, it's dumb luck. The truth is that bridge is an easy game and that good plays are easy. The only problem is to make good plays regularly.
 South won the first trick with the queen of clubs and led a low diamond to dummy's jack. That's all. That was the end of the hand.
 East had made a good play by allowing dummy's jack of diamonds to win a trick. South could get to his hand with the ace of clubs to cash the ace and king of diamonds, but he could never make another diamond trick.

 As a result of this play South won only three diamond tricks in all. This was not enough for game since he could get only two spades, one heart and two clubs in the side suits.
 Second Look
 Take a second look at the hand and see what would happen if East took the first diamond trick with his queen. South would get back to his hand with the ace of clubs to lead out the ace, king and ten of diamonds. The last two diamonds would then be good, and South would win five diamond tricks instead of only three.
 When your contract is three no trump, there's a big difference between winning eight tricks and winning ten tricks. A difference of 730 points, if you want to get materialistic about it.
 Now take a third look at the hand to see how easy East's good play was. South had bid and rebid the diamonds and had led the suit at his first opportunity. It wasn't hard for East to assume that South was trying to set the suit up.
 Similarly, it was easy for East to assume that refusing the first diamond trick would be a step in the right direction. Perhaps East couldn't tell that this simple play would defeat the contract, but it isn't necessary to be a prophet. It is necessary only to make a simple good play and await developments.
 Daily Question
 Dealer, at your right, bids one diamond. You hold: S—AK96, H—AJ863, D—J, C—J62. What do you say?
 Answer: Double. This asks partner to respond in his longest suit (giving preference, if possible, to a major suit. You would rather show support for both majors by doubling than merely overcall with one heart.

SEAMS TO ME Questions, Answers By Patricia Scott

BY PATRICIA SCOTT
 Q: I'd like to make about a dozen very inexpensive little boutique type gifts, all the same, for the girls in my bridge club.
 Pat Scott
 Can you suggest something easy, since I do not sew very well? Mrs. G.V.
 A: Why not decorate some very inexpensive address books? Just buy various pretty ribbons in different widths and textures — for instance, to cover a small book, use a strip of narrow green velvet, wide green velvet, narrow blue velvet, wide blue velvet and three strips of embroidered ribbon. Cover the entire book (as shown in the illustration) by alternating the plain and patterned designs. Cut strips two inches longer than the book and glue them in place with the fabric glue. Turn the ends inside and for a neat finish, cover the ends on the inside with a strip of narrow ribbon going across the width of the book and covering the ends.

 Q: When a dress or skirt is underlined, do you sew the hem to both the lining and the outer fabric? Miss L.B.R.
 A: No, just catch the underlining.
 Q: When do you advise putting on a zipper by hand? Mrs. D.F.
 A: I do it on everything because it gives a custom finish. However, I still advise applying it this way when working on velvet, velveteen, sheer fabrics, lace or pile fabrics.
 Winter Rite Planned by Engaged Pair

The Ailing House

Plans for Canopy Over Bed

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN
 Q: I have promised to redecorate my daughter's bedroom. She is very anxious to have a canopy over her bed. Is there any place I can get plans for a half-round style?
 A: Complete plans for four bed canopies, among them a half-round style, are available free from the Masonite Home Service Bureau, Box B., Chicago, Ill. 60660. Just send them a postcard.
 Q: We added a bedroom and half-bath to our home, with a three-foot crawl space under this. There is an odor from the uncovered earth which seeps into the basement under the rest of the house. Is there any way to eliminate this damp odor besides extending the basement under the addition too? We have a dehumidifier running all the time, but it doesn't help the odor. We can't hang clothing in the basement hallway, as they pick up the odor. What do you suggest?
 A: Cover the exposed earth with polyethylene sheeting, running it at least six inches up the sides of the crawl space also, to prevent the rise of ground moisture. Louvers or vents should be provided in at least two of the walls of a size opening of at least one square inch for each 1,500 square inches of ground area, besides the ground cover, to make sure of ample air circulation and ventilation.

 Q: Could you possibly recommend a comparatively easy way of removing old mortar from bricks? Bricks are from a recently razed old building. We want to build an outside patio using the bricks for the floor.
 A: Sorry to say, but there is no easy way to do this. It is a tedious job, at best. The mortar is softened by moistening with a solution of one part muriatic acid in 20 parts of water (using a wooden container, and submerge several bricks at a time in the solution), allowing this to act for a few minutes. Flush off with plenty of water (rinse in another container of clear water). Then scrape off the softened mortar. After cleaning the brick, neutralize any acid remaining in the surface with ammonia, followed again by rinsing in clear water. Be sure to wear heavy work clothes, ample long rubber gloves to protect the hands and goggles to protect the eyes while working, because of the highly corrosive nature of the acid.

Leather Gifts on Yule List

From little leathers grow great ideas for Christmas giving.

Leather wallets and French purses, house accessories, sporting equipment, grooming aids, smoking and bar accessories and other small leather goods — all are elegant items for every member of the family. So long as the gift is leather, the recipient will treasure its good looks and serviceability.

Wafer-thin yet roomy enough for all a man's essentials, leather wallets are available in fine-grained or smooth cowhide, steerhide, goatskin and calfskin. Other favored textures with men are pinseal and pigskin. In all leathers, there is a color choice of black or brown, with some olive, mahogany and tan. Many leather billfolds boast removable card and photo cases, secret bill compartments and credit card sections.

Purse Accessories
The ladies on your list will also fall for the combination of fashion and practicality to be found in a smart leather wallet or French purse. In dozens of colors and decorated with jeweling, double textures, nailheads or stitching effects, these pretty purse accessories will have her gasping with glee. Smooth, suede, lustre and embossed leather textures offer a wide range of surface effects.

For an impressive tandem gift, why not present a matching keychain in the same leather as his or her wallet? Other matching accessories available include leather glass cases, pocket squares, cigarette packs, and lighters.

If you know an ex-cigarette smoker who has just joined the "switchables," a leather tobacco pouch or leather-covered humidor would make a thoughtful gift. For the owner of a well-accounted bar, consider a dashing leather-bound ice bucket, or coasters and shot glasses cleverly encased in leather.

Leather Grooming Aids
Gifts of grooming aids that improve the appearance look better themselves in handsome leather. Fine examples are soft leather toilet kits, leather-backed hair and clothes brushes, leather manicure sets and leather shoe shine kits. Great to get or give are rich-looking leather jewelry and stud boxes.

In the sports field, a golf nut would love a luxurious leather golf bag, a pair of comfortable leather golfing shoes, mittens for his or her woods, or a "leftie" glove for a solid grip. For the hunter, there are tooled leather gun cases, suede shooting vests with pockets for shells, and high hunting boots of tough but supple leather.

Youngsters love the luxury of leather, and their parents will appreciate its ruggedness. New ice skates with durable leather shoes, a baseball glove, boxing gloves and punching bag — each is a sure-fire hit with a built-in bonus in pleasure and health. And children of all ages enjoy leathercraft kits as an absorbing means of expressing their artistic ideas usefully.

our four children. They were imprinted in one of two ways: The Jones Family or George and Jean Jones under which were the children's names. Now I have a special problem. My husband and I have been legally separated for six months. A divorce is imminent and the children will remain in my custody. I intend to continue sending picture cards of the children to relatives and close friends. How should I have them printed? I prefer Jean Smith Jones and the children's names. I would like to do what is proper without giving a wrong impression as to my marital status, yet without advertising that my husband and I are no longer send out joint cards.

Still Dressed in Apron, Cook Pleads Guilty to Theft From Restaurant

Still dressed in his kitchen apron and carrying a potato peeler, a cook at the Prange Department Store Tuesday pleaded guilty to theft of restaurant receipts totaling $89.

Jerome J. Cozy, 36, 613 Fairview St., Neenah, appeared in Outagamie County jail where a pre-sentence investigation was ordered and sentencing was set for Dec. 15. Cozy is being held in the county jail without bond.

Appleton police arrested Cozy Tuesday at the store after an investigation into the missing funds. Police said store officials noted the loss in Nov. 27 cash receipts. Cozy told police he intended to repay the money.

and studies and everything. She has taken piano lessons for the past five years and plays nicely, but her playing is nothing spectacular and concert stage level, you understand.

That's why I don't know what to do about her sudden love for the piano, to the disregard of everything else. She practices for hours every afternoon and on weekends. She won't go to parties because she says she'd sooner practice or listen to good records. And she acts as if the piano were her entire world. Maybe I wouldn't be troubled if she were really good, but she isn't, and I don't know how to make her see that without hurting her pride terribly much.

DEAR MRS. S.W.: Don't let yourself continue to be sidetracked by what she's burying herself in. Instead, solve the problem that's causing her to run away into a different world.

At her age, the problem is likely to be connected with her confusion about puberty and sex, and her changed appearance and new sensations. Talk about all this with her honestly and clearly, and try to help her realize that even a great talent can't repudiate physical and social reality. Music is neither male nor female — that's its great attraction for youngsters who can't accept their newly developed selves — but music is no substitute for other necessary aspects of daily life.

Ham, Cake Traditional for Christmas

For centuries the Christmas season has been the traditional time for serving an abundance of delectable foods.

Most of the gaiety started in Merrie Old England when, in 878, King Alfred decreed that Yuletide be observed for 12 days and accompanied by great feasting. Henry V took the decree seriously and was known to serve gargantuan platters of roast pig garnished with "jelly covered with flowers." Each succeeding English King had roast pig on his holiday table and thus, today, ham remains a Christmas favorite.

The popularity of cakes and cookies at Christmas is said to be a survival of an early Roman custom. On Saturnalia, the Roman's mid-winter holiday, each Roman senator was given a confection to celebrate the coming of spring. The delightful custom of decorative sweets continued into Christian times, and today the Germans are famous for their pfefferkuchen or pfefferkugeln, hard, round, spicy cookies made in great quantity at Christmas.

Scandinavian women spend days baking pastry for their holiday parties. Each Christmas, French "patisserie" win-dows feature cake after cake in the form of a chocolate Yule log, while the Rumanians make their cakes in folds, symbolic of the swaddling clothes of the Christ Child.

Brought to New World American settlers brought many European holiday menus with them—and added a few ideas of their own. Martha Washington was known to have served baked ham, baked fowl, capon stuffed with oysters, roast veal with herbs, oyster pies, yams, several kinds of jams, preserves, pickles, cornbread, pies, and cakes at a Christmas celebration.

The recipe for her "Great Cake" is still in existence and includes 40 eggs and four pounds of flour.

An elegant and easy-to-make dish in the modern manner is Cracker Crusted Ham, with a delicious and unusual flavor.

CRACKER CRUSTED HAM
¾ cup finely crushed crackers
2 tablespoons dark brown sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 fully cooked ham, about 12-15 lbs.
¼ cup corn syrup
Whole cloves

With rolling pin, crush crackers between waxed paper into very fine crumbs. Sprinkle with sugar, mustard and orange rind, tossing well to mix, set aside.

Heat ham, uncovered on rack in shallow pan, about 10 minutes to the pound in 325-degree oven or until meat thermometer registers 130 degrees. About 40 minutes before ham is finished, remove from oven; trim any remaining skin and discard.

With sharp knife, score ham about ½ inch deep into diamond shapes. Brush ham with corn syrup. Sprinkle and pat crumb mixture all over ham. Stud diamond pattern with whole cloves.

Return to oven and continue heating. Let stand about 15 to 20 minutes at room temperature before carving.

HOLIDAY WREATH GRAHAM CAKE
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
¾ cup brown sugar
¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour
¾ cup sugar
2½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups graham cracker crumbs
½ cup soft shortening
¾ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 eggs
8 pineapple slices (canned)
8 maraschino cherries
Whipped cream

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Put butter and brown sugar into aluminum ring mold (1½-quart size). Set pan in oven while preparing batter.

Sift together flour, white sugar, baking powder and salt. Stir in crumbs. Add shortening, milk and vanilla. Beat two minutes briskly. Add eggs, beat again one minute.

Remove pan from oven. Spread sugar and butter evenly over bottom of pan. Lay pineapple slices along bottom of pan on top of sugar mixture. Pour batter over fruit. Bake at 375 degrees for 40 minutes or until cake tests done. Cook five minutes on cake rack. Invert on cream

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Eyebright

"Go to the fields at dawn and pick a bouquet of eyebright. While the dew is on the blossoms, boil with a thread from a mare's tail." So goes an ancient formula for lotion to clear milady's eyes.

Well, the formula has changed, but not milady. Bright eyes are still in demand. And the big secret of sparkle is rest. Nothing douses luster as quickly as fatigue—eye or bodily fatigue. Weariness also reddens the whites of the eye, etches surrounding lines and creates a drawn look.

The foremost remedy is a long sleep but, when it cannot be had, several measures bring temporary relief.

In seconds, eyedrops clear redness from strain. "Instand" rest comes from cupping the palms to closed eyes for a half-minute. If at first you see light streaks, open and close your lids until deep blackness takes over.

Before an evening occasion, a cold compress lifts the entire eye area. You may use cotton squares dampened with water and witch hazel, or ready-made herbal eye pads. For full results, first cream the lids and circles, then lie down, with the feet elevated, and firm the pads.

Just so, you can have a sparkling outlook. Even in this hectic season! You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care, cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, The Eyes of Youth. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Post-Crescent, enclosing 10 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Copyright 1964)

Canadians Fear America Will Blur Their Nation's Identity

There Is Evidence Everywhere Of Creeping U. S. Penetration

BY MAX HARREISON
OTTAWA (AP) — The border between the United States and Canada often has been described as the longest undefended frontier in the world. It also has been called "the unequal border."
Some Canadians think the latter is more meaningful, since it calls attention to the disparity in the size and influence of the two neighbors — a factor which has an important bearing on their relations.
It is not fear of a military attack that bothers Canadians; it is the constantly growing shadow of the giant south of the border.
Serious Concern
There is a serious concern that Canada's identity may be blurred — or even destroyed — by a gradual and unconscious extension of U. S. influence and culture. There undoubtedly is national pride involved.
Everywhere Canadians see evidence of creeping U. S. penetration — magazines, books, motion pictures, television shows, automobiles, even the same kinds of soap powders and cake mixes.
And in English-Canada they speak the same language even with a similar accent. This led one Canadian to ask sarcastically whether English-Canadians really exist or whether they are "just Americans who play hockey."

Popular Nation
A U. S. official remarked, "It is a popular notion that Canadians and Americans beam so warmly at each other across the boundary line that the Great Lakes never quite freeze solid. The truth is that these smiles sometimes resemble the twitching resulting from gas pains."
Canadians are generally friendly with visiting Americans and thousands cross into the United States daily. But they don't like to be told that Canadians and Americans are just a like, or that we don't consider them as foreigners.
This feeling was expressed with some warmth in an article by Ian Selanders, former Washington correspondent of Maclean's magazine. Americans expect Canadians to feel flattered, he said, when you tell them they are just like Americans, and having convinced themselves that the United States and Canada are one, they feel they can take Canada for granted.
Canadians Differ
He added, "What I am positive of after four years in Washington is that Canada is not a northern extension of the United States, that Canadians are not just like Americans and don't wish to be, and that we should do more to impress the Americans that we do have a national character, a national identity, a national destiny."
But you find it hard, nevertheless, to separate Canadians from Americans when you mingle with them at airports and in hotels.
Millions of Canadians have lived in the United States or have relatives there. And there are tens of thousands of American citizens or former American citizens living in Canada. In Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island alone there are an estimated 30,000 who were either American-born or born of American parents. Premier Robert Stanfield himself attended Harvard Law School before embarking on a political career in Nova Scotia.

Toronto columnist Bruce West found that most Canadians were pro-Johnson — possibly, he said, because "Canadians traditionally 'vote Democratic' during U. S. elections."

Strong Nationalist
He added, "If you are a strong Canadian nationalist, this tendency among Canadians can be quite distressing. Just when you think that we have the Canadian beaver smacking his tail disdainfully in the direction of the American eagle, something like a presidential election comes along to reveal that the fascinating pull of the great magnet south of the border is still as great as ever."

Swanson wrote a column in the Calgary Herald deploring what he said was the lack of understanding of Canada in the United States. He illustrated his point with a story about a girl crossing the border from the United States for her first visit to Canada.

She stuck her head out of the train window and said, "Good-bye, God I'm going to Canada." When the Toronto Board of Trade heard about this it decided to investigate. It found that she had uttered these words all right, but that the meaning had been altered in the telling. It was clear the investigators concluded, that what she really said was "Good-bye, God I'm going to Canada." Next: U. S.-Canadian ties

PMA Referendum Approved by U. S. Bureau

CHICAGO (AP) — The Pure Milk Association reported Tuesday that the Department of Agriculture has approved a referendum vote on Chicago and South Bend milk marketing order and include them in the newly designated Northwestern Indiana Marketing Order Area. A. L. McWilliams, general manager of PMA, said two-thirds of the dairy farmers who must ratify the proposal before it becomes effective.

The amended milk orders, designed to improve dairy farmer income and marketing conditions, provide for two classifications of milk instead of three and simplify methods of accounting for the utilization of milk. The amendment would also delete three townships of Lake County, Ind., from the Chicago order and include them in the newly designated Northwestern Indiana Marketing Order Area. The northwestern area also includes Elkhart, Kosciusko, Lake, LaPorte, Marquette, Porter, St. Joseph and Starke counties.

Former Seymour Chief New Radio Operator

Former Seymour Police Chief Bernard Plumb began work Tuesday night as a radio operator in the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department. He was hired at a starting salary of $314 per month. Plumb resigned his position in Seymour recently after being criticized by city officials for participating in other work. Plumb formerly worked as a radio operator for three years before becoming Seymour's police chief. He replaces Harold Greinert, Stevensville, who has been transferred to duties as a jailer.

Girl Dies After 18-Year Coma

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — A mysterious disease struck Katherine Sue Groce when she was 18 months old, putting her to sleep. She died at her home Tuesday night after almost 18 years in a coma.

Doctors never determined exactly what the illness was but presumed it was a form of encephalitis or sleeping sickness. Katherine Sue had been to the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., and other medical centers. Her two brothers and four sisters helped their widowed mother, Lillian Groce, take care of Katherine Sue at home.

Teaching Difficulty Caused by Lack of Students Will to Read

BY G. K. HODENFIELD
CLEVELAND (AP) — One of the big reasons why students can't write well, either in high school or college, is that they don't read enough, says Prof. James Squire of the University of Illinois.
"If you don't have ideas coming in, you can't have ideas student's vocabulary," he said, coming out in an interview. "A regular program of reading is essential for any one who wants to write well."

O'Konski Will Address NFO
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Rep Alvin O'Konski, R-Wis., is among speakers who will address the 7,500 delegates attending the National Farmer Organization (NFO) convention which opened today.
O'Konski will speak during Thursday's concluding sessions. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman will address the convention tonight.

Missing from the convention will be NFO president Oren Lee Staley, who was listed in satisfactory condition after an appendectomy Monday night. Staley faces no serious challenge as he comes up for reelection.
Another NFO official, Erhard Pfingsten of Sergeant Bluff, Iowa, said Tuesday that resumption of holding actions by the NFO is not inevitable.
He said a livestock holding action begun in August and recessed Oct. 1 could be resumed on short notice. Renewal of the action was to be one of the prime issues of the convention, but Pfingsten said the decision would be up to the 30-member board of directors.

Machinist Will be 25-Year Club Member
Robert Van Handel will become a member of the Tuttle Press Company's 25 Year Club at a dinner and social meeting in the Appleton Elks Club at 6 p.m. Thursday. He is a machinist.
About 46 of the club's 53 members will attend the annual meeting.

When You Buy a Piano at HEID'S

Squire said, was tried in a junior high school in Detroit. The class spent two of every five days reading good books in class. While the pupils read, the teacher had time for individual instruction, helping the pupils who needed it most.
At the end of the year, the pupils had read an average of 26 books each, instead of the usual 8 or 9.
Ideas in Writing
Squire said it is ridiculous to expect pupils to express their own ideas in writing if they have not been exposed, through reading, to the way other people express theirs.
"A student needs to sample a wide variety of literature about different kinds of things," he said. "Extensive reading will help him shape and express his own beliefs and opinions."
This is especially true in the education of disadvantaged children from the slums, Squire said.
"If we want to help slum children to a better use of expression," he said, "we must expose them to how other people use the language, use it in ways they never see or hear in their home environment."
Parents should do all they can to encourage the youngster to read outside of school, Squire said. But he acknowledged that parents of younger pupils have a difficult problem.
"Parents simply can't get their hands on good books for the grades through junior high," he said.
"If you look for books for young readers in most department stores you will find many of the series books — 'The Hardy Boys,' 'The Happy Hollisters,' 'Tom Swift,' 'The Bobsey Twins,' and the like."
High School
"There are good juvenile books available, but they're hard to find, and parents just don't know enough about them or where to find them."
The situation is much better at the high school level, Squire said, because the students are starting to dip into adult reading, so easily available in paperback. But the big problem is getting high school youngsters to read.
There was a time when most elementary teachers set part of one day a week aside for reading aloud to the class, in hopes of stirring the children's interest in books. What happened to that practice?
"Teachers became too conscientious. This was entertainment, and it made a lot of teachers feel guilty — as if teaching couldn't be entertaining at the same time it was educational."
"They were afraid it would be considered a frill — which, of course, it isn't."

Mothers Get Training For Diplomatic Corps

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: Any country might have better foreign relations if it drafted the mothers of large families to serve in its diplomatic corps. A woman with from five to 10 kids has to settle more arguments in a day than the United Nations does in a year. If you check the shirts of the average confidence man, you'll find he wears french cuffs. He also tends to be excessively neat. Most cats nowadays live all their nine lives without ever seeing another cat or a mouse, let alone catching one.

Wednesday, Dec. 2, 1964 Appleton Post-Crescent C11

You begin to grow up in this world when you realize that no joy — an dot ball point pen — lasts forever. One of the first things an executive learns is to make his signature indecipherable — as if it had been scrawled in a vast hurry. Actually, you can teach a chimpanzee to sign his name this way just as quickly as you can an executive. When man invented the alarm clock, he already had gone too far down the road to automation ever to turn back. There may be no honor among thieves, but there is plenty of snobbery. A safecracker looks down his nose at the robber who holds up a bank at gunpoint — and a professional forger sneers at them both. Few people can recall the moment in their lives when they finally quit believing in Santa Claus. And, of course, many never do. The fellow who avoids going to the doctor in order to save money reaps one reward. He usually winds up by having the finest funeral in the block. In the old days it was the women who used to imitate the men. Now we seem to be reversing the trend. How else explains the fact you see so many men wearing pointed shoes lately? The average dog in America is better fed than the average teen-ager. The four hardest things in the world to keep secret are: secret loving, secret drinking, secret gambling and secret thinking. A woman always feels most worthwhile to a man when she sews on a button for him; a man feels most essential to a woman when he takes out the garbage for her.

Badgers Unveil New Look, Open Season With 76-65 Victory

Ken Barnes Nets 22 Points in Win Over Houston

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin, a race horse turned trotter, let Houston set a slow pace and stormed home with a 76-65 victory over the Cougars Tuesday night in a 1964-65 basketball opener.

The Badgers, who employed the fast break while sagging to an 8-16 record last season, displayed Coach John Erickson's new tactics to outclass a group of old hands at ball control.

With added height and some reserve strength, Wisconsin shot a sparkling 46.6 per cent by hitting on 27 of 58 field goal attempts. The Badgers also controlled the boards, collecting 42 rebounds to 31 for Houston.

Ken Barnes, a 6-foot-4 junior who tallied only 48 points all last season, led the Badgers with 22 points. Another junior, 6-foot-8 Mark Zubor, contributed 17 points and grabbed 13 rebounds. And junior Ken Gustafson, Wisconsin's most valuable player last year as a forward, added 14 points from his new post at guard.

Ahead to Stay

Houston jumped off to an early lead, but Wisconsin went ahead to stay after 4½ minutes of play. The Badgers opened a 37-26 advantage as Houston took only 20 first half shots, cashing six, while Wisconsin shooters hit on half of their 28 attempts.

Houston finished with a field goal shooting mark of 36.4 per cent, hitting on 20 of 55 attempts. The Cougars attempted to up the play tempo in the second half and Gary Grider hit on two lay-ups, trimming Wisconsin's lead to nine points, 67-58. However, that was as close as Houston could get the rest of the way.

Coaches Protest Signing 'Futures'

Bears Ink Sayers, Lose DeLong

BY MIKE RATHET

Money talks — and makes college coaches scream.

It spoke to Kansas back-bay Gale Sayers and Tennessee guard Steve DeLong, giving the Chicago Bears of the National Football League a split Tuesday with the rival American League, as the multi-million dollar pro football war continued.

Sayers and DeLong — both picked on the first round of the NFL draft by the Bears — went different ways. Chicago won the battle for Sayers against the Kansas City Chiefs, but lost DeLong to the AFL's San Diego Chargers in the first major breakthrough for the younger league.

Meanwhile, both leagues came under fire from college coaches for signing futures — "found out he had no intention of going back to school. The Browns never have and never will take people out of school to play football."

Todd's coach, Frank Kush, charged the Raiders talked to the player throughout the season and implied this was unethical and thus are eligible to be drafted.

Consider Protests

The two cases involved Los Angeles State tackle Walt Johnson, signed by the NFL's Cleveland Browns, and Arizona State halfback Larry Todd, signed by the Oakland Raiders of the AFL. Coaches from each team said they were considering official protests.

Sayers and DeLong — both picked on the first round of the NFL draft by the Bears — went different ways. Chicago won the battle for Sayers against the Kansas City Chiefs, but lost DeLong to the AFL's San Diego Chargers in the first major breakthrough for the younger league.

Meanwhile, both leagues came under fire from college coaches for signing futures — "found out he had no intention of going back to school. The Browns never have and never will take people out of school to play football."

Todd's coach, Frank Kush, charged the Raiders talked to the player throughout the season and implied this was unethical and thus are eligible to be drafted.

A new season, but with old favorites.

Thus, the 1964-65 Mid-Eastern Conference basketball campaign opens Friday night.

Kimberly and Menasha, co-defending champions and definite contenders in the onrushing campaign, settle accounts on the Bluejay court in Friday's feature, Two Rivers travels to Kaukauna, Neenah treks to Clintonville and New London opens at Shawano.

Menasha, with the loss of just two starters from last year's unit, would have to be the odd-man choice to successfully defend its title. Among the top contenders are Kimberly, Two Rivers, Shawano and Kaukauna. Neenah, with just three lettermen back, and New London (with four) are not expected to challenge any of the aforementioned.

Clintonville is the question mark. The Truckers of Coach Carl Bruggink boast seven lettermen, but, only two have a great deal of experience. Yet, the Truckers, in non-conference tuneups to date, have logged a perfect (3-0) mark with wins over Waupaca, Antigo and Preble.

Menasha is also 3-0 in non-loop action. The Bluejays had little trouble in dispensing with highly-rated Manitowoc, West De Pere and Preble.

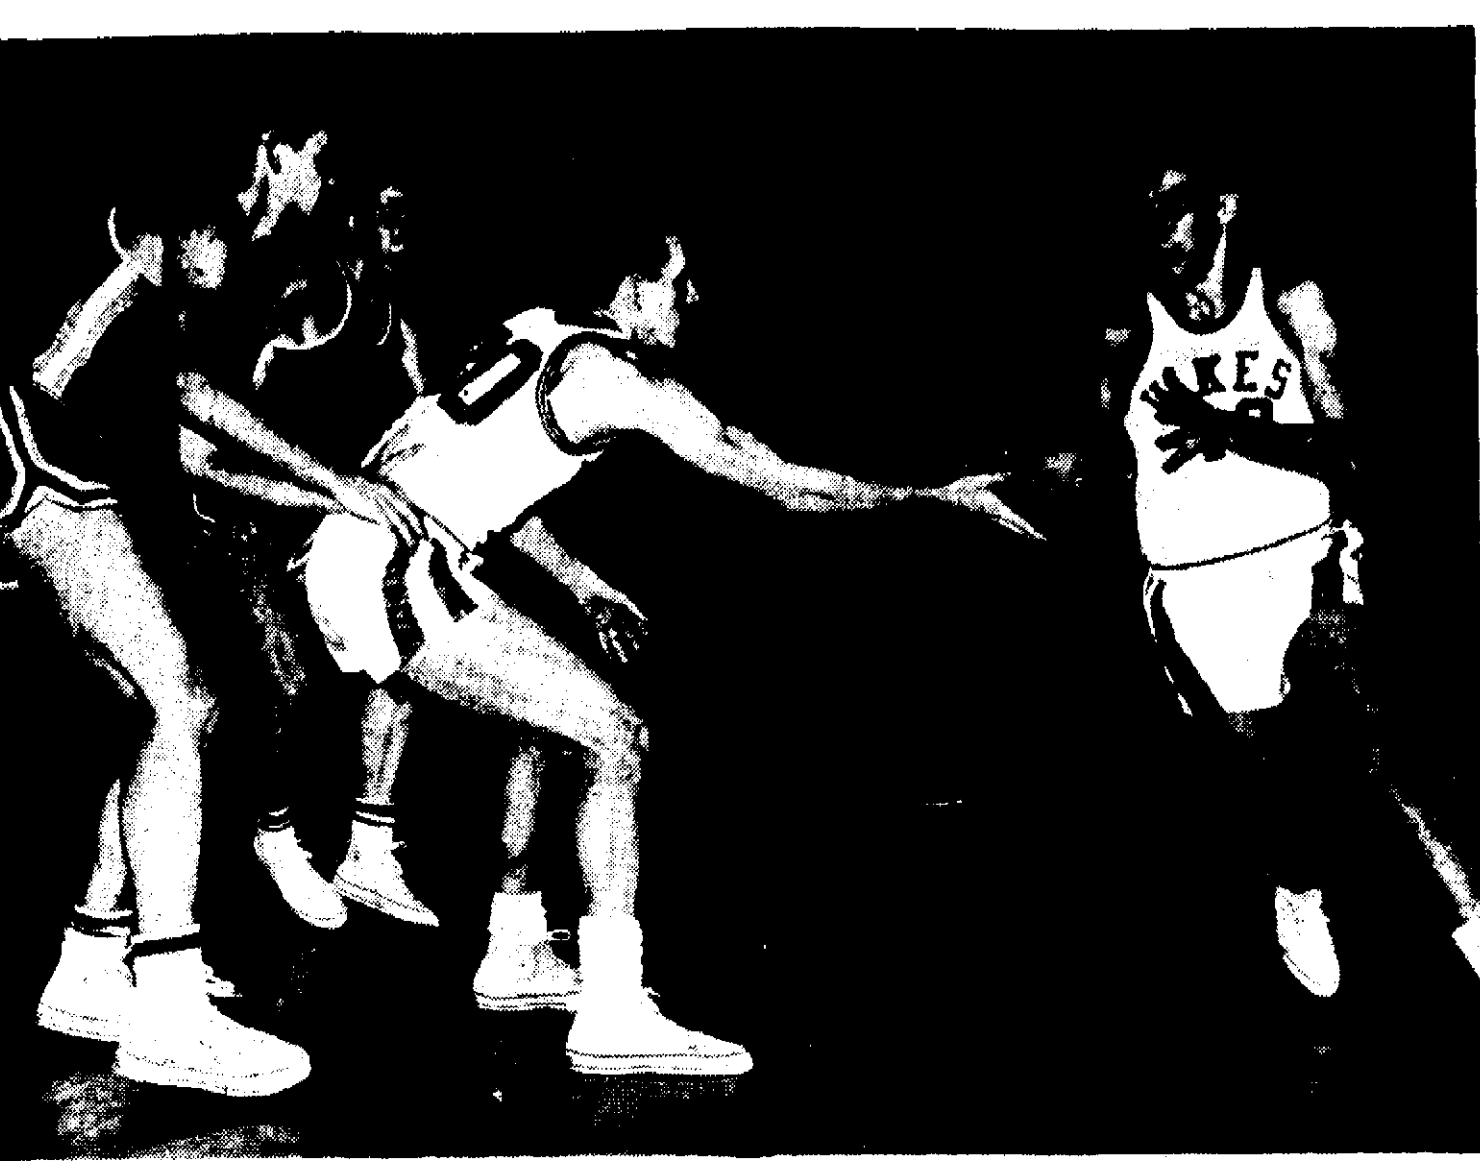

Shawano is 2-0, Neenah, 0-3; New London, 1-1; Two Rivers, 1-1; Kaukauna, 2-0 and Kimberly, 1-2, in non-conference outings.

Kaukauna overwhelmed Fond du Lac and Sheboygan North. Coach Gene Mason's Papermakers are another question mark. Pre-season beliefs were that the Papermakers would again field a top-notch club. However, the Papermakers have failed to impress observers in any of their three non-conference contests. An abundance of Kimberly height is apparently offset by apparent weakness at one position. If this is solved, the perennially tough Kimberly contingent could become potent.

Capsule summaries of each team's lettermen and top prospects:

MENASHA—The three returning starters are Don Steffin (6-2), Dick Sorensen (6-2) and Rick Zimmerman (5-9½). Dick Steffy (6-2), and Tom Vanderhyde (5-10) experienced reserves last season, round out the starting lineup. Steffin ranked 11th 24 points on 10 field goals and in M-E individual scoring last

Pointers Rally to Record 77-65 Win Over Lawrence

Tom Steinmetz Paces Vikings With 24 Points

BY JIM HARP

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Stevens Point thwarted a determined Lawrence University bid to open the 1964-5 basketball season with a victory as the Pointers came from behind in the last eight minutes and pulled out a 77-65 non-conference triumph at Alexander Gymnasium Tuesday night.

It was a heartbreaking loss for the comparatively young Viking squad as Lawrence was behind on only two occasions in the first half and had an 8-point lead with under 10 minutes to go.

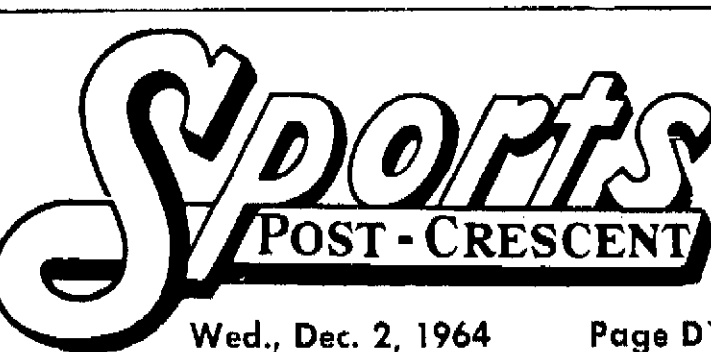

However, the depth and experience of the Pointers began to show down the stretch and the visitors pulled away steadily in the closing minutes of the contest. The victory was the second straight for Stevens Point which throttled Winona State in its first outing.

Good Promise

For Coach Clyde Rusk's Vikings the tid-lifter gave an indication that some underclassmen show good promise. Rusk used sophomores and juniors through most of the action. Veteran Earl Hoover was the only senior to see continuous duty and he came through with 11 points and some strong rebounding on defense.

Setting the scoring pace for the Vikes was Tom Steinmetz, letterman forward who scored 24 points on 10 field goals and four free throws. The remainder

Sophomore Paces Marquette's 69-49 Win Over St. Thomas

Bob Wolf Tallies 20 Points in Warrior Debut

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Marquette offset a sloppy attack with a staunch defense and tuned up for a rugged schedule ahead by trouncing outclassed St. Thomas of St. Paul, Minn., 69-49 Tuesday night in a basketball season opener before a crowd of 4,675 at the Arena.

Despite the play-calling of new Coach Al McGuire, who flashed hand signals from the bench most of the way, the Warriors had trouble getting their offense untracked. However, they turned in a fine job on defense, out-rebounding the Tommies by a 57-32 margin.

"Our defense won this one," McGuire said after his Marquette debut. "Our offense needs a lot of work. We threw the ball away too often. However, we should do better with this one under our belts."

Deliberate Style

McGuire introduced a deliberate style of play to take full advantage of available talent. The slow-down tactics appeared better suited for the Warriors, who had a 5-21 record with the draft choice and No. 12 of the race-horse play advocated by Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

Bob Wolf, a 6-foot-2 sophomore, weights 230 pounds.

Bays' Defense Tough Test for Bears' Bukich

Jurgensen Ties Bart Starr as NFL Passing Leader

GREEN BAY (AP) — The Green Bay Packer defense will provide a major test Saturday for quarterback Rudy Bukich who came off the bench to direct the Chicago Bears to three straight victories.

Bukich has been in the National Football League since 1954 but has never enjoyed the success that has been his since he replaced Bill Wade as the Bear signal caller and revived the Chicago spirit.

"Football's fun again," said end Mike Ditka, one of Bukich's favorite receivers.

Bear center Mike Pyle said, "Bukich calls good plays."

Bukich has completed 93 of 146 passes for 1,073 yards and 12 touchdowns. In the 27-24 victory over the Lions in Detroit on Thanksgiving Day, Bukich completed 22 of 29 passes while pitching for three touchdowns.

Smashed Record

In Ditka and Johnny Morris, Bukich has the receivers who have smashed the NFL record for most pass receptions by two men on any club in the 45-year history of the league.

Morris has caught 90 passes, which broke the record of 84 held by Tom Fears, now end coach with the Packers.

But the Green Bay defense has made life miserable for opponents' quarterbacks all through the season. Only 270 passes, the fewest in the league, have been thrown against the Green Bay defense.

The Packers also lead in the fewest opposition passes completed, 148; fewest yards surrendered to passing attacks, 1,455; fewest first downs passing, 82, and fewest scoring passes, 10.

Bukich is fifth among the league's passers, paced by the Packers' Bart Starr who has been tied for the top spot by Sonny Jurgensen of the Washington Redskins.

League statistics announced today in New York showed that Starr has completed 139 of 233 passes for 1,865 yards, 14 touchdowns and an average gain of eight yards.

Jurgensen has completed 177 of 328 passes for 2,626 yards, 24 touchdowns and an average private and parochial school team by a news service.

A board of coaches placed Weyenberg on the first-team backfield that also includes Milwaukee Plus' Ron Jurewicz, Kenosha St. Joseph's Andy Van Sant and LaCrosse Awitunas Joe Loomis.

Weyenberg previously had been named quarterback on the all-Fox Valley Catholic Conference team and on the Post-Crescent's all-Fox Cities unit.

Menasha St. Mary's Larry Resch was picked as a tackle on the all-state second team.

St. John's Bruce Hammen won an end berth on the third team.

Picked on the fourth team were Appleton Xavier center Tim Wenzel and running back Gary Gunderson. Xavier and St. John tied for the league championship.

Cubs Obtain Sox' Hurler Baumann For Schaffer

HOUSTON (AP) — Chicago's baseball clubs swapped batterymen Tuesday when the Cubs obtained southpaw pitcher Frank Baumann from the White Sox for catcher Jim Schaffer in an inter-league transaction.

It was believed to be the first trade ever between the Chicago teams.

Baumann, 31, had a 0-3 record with the White Sox last season. He is a former bonus pitcher who received more than $100,000 to sign with the Boston Red Sox in 1952. His best big league season was in 1960 when he won 13 games and led the American League in earned run average with 2.68.

Schaffer hit 205 in 54 games for the Cubs in 1964. The Cubs obtained him from the St. Louis Cards in October 1962. He is 28 years old.

Harlan Riste Hits 629 Series for Coated Loop High

Roger Emrich pounded a 267 game and 626 series for individual honors in the Major Scratch League at Hahn's Lanes Tuesday night.

Four other league counts over the 600 mark were recorded with Ken Falk hitting 234 and 615; Bud Slach had a 613 series; Bill Nofke posted a 607 count and Don Strutz rammed a 225 game and 604 series.

Reetz (27-9) leads the league with Hahn's only one game off the pace.

Other honor scores included Herb Brock, 236 and 599; Bud Jentz, 596; Orme Slach, 588; Don Van Gefen, 596; Chuck Bayer, 586; Wally Moore, 579; Keith Gehring, 577; Ray Crane, 562; Conny Knaus, 230 and 561; Wally Roblee, 559 and Curly Ludwig, 553.

Harlan Riste smacked a 629 series for high count in the Appletton Coated Paper League at Hahn's.

Badgers (22 - 14) lead the league with the Wolverines two games behind. Other honor scores included Lyle Kubitz, 570; and Maurice Wilkinson, 556.

Jerry Thiel fired a 233 single-ton and 601 series to set the pace in the Continental League at Jerry's Lanes Kimberly.

Kimberly D-X (28-14) leads Verstegen Heating by 1 1/2 games. The only other honor scores were a 592 series by Harold Nelson and a 560 count by Ted Maas monte and pitcher Ken Johnson, or to Milwaukee for third baseman Ed Mathews, or to Kansas City for outfielder Rocky Colavito.

Belinsky, the calamity-prone left-hander of the Los Angeles Angels, will be traded for one or more Philadelphia Phillies.

Rumor Denied
There was also a rumor Tuesday that San Francisco would trade pitchers Bob Shaw and Billy O'Dell to the New York Yankees for catcher-outfielder John Blanchard. But that one was vigorously denied by both clubs.

About the catcher's mitt: The playing rules committee outlawed the Big Berthas used to catch some knuckleball pitchers. The committee decided the mitt may be no more than 38 inches in circumference.

A conventional mitt is 33 to 34 inches. The Big Berthas, described by committee chairman Charles Segar as "burlesque gloves," are up to 45 inches.

The Belinsky-Philadelphia deal has been hanging several days. First baseman John Herrstein and outfielder Tony Gonzalez are among the Phils rumored to have been offered or asked. But the guess is that the Angels don't think Herrstein is enough and the Phils think Gonzalez is too much.

Other developments:
— Player representatives of the 20 major league clubs approved a plan whereby fans once again would vote for members of the All-Star teams. A committee of baseball officials, writers and Hall of Fame players would nominate five players for each position and fans would vote on ballots distributed in all professional ballparks. The plan will be submitted to major league club owners Saturday. Players and coaches have done the voting since 1957.

Former pitching star Cal McLish was named pitching coach of the Phillies on his 39th birthday.

Berlin Quint Wins Over Hortonville

BERLIN — A late rally by Hortonville High School fell short as the Polar Bears dropped a non-conference decision to Berlin, 69-58, here Tuesday night.

Except for a last-minute letdown, the game was close most of the way, with the score being 33-30 at halftime in favor of Berlin and with the Polar Bears pulling to within four points in the fourth quarter.

The Berlin victory was made possible through a balanced scoring effort, with Jerry Gerth and Bill Beaman scoring 19 and 17 points, respectively, and two other Indians contributing totals of 14 and 12 points. Lee Keller of Hortonville was the game's scoring standout, as he tallied 27 points.

gain of eight yards. But that comes out as a tie with Starr under the complicated measuring system based on completion percentage, touchdown passes, average yards gained and percentage of interceptions.

The Packers' Jim Taylor is third among the ground gainers, carrying 196 times for 916 yards and 10 touchdowns. Taylor also scored three TDs on passes to give him 78 points, good for a seventh-place tie in scoring. Green Bay's Paul Hornung is fifth in scoring with 90 points on four touchdowns, 36 extra points and 10 field goals.

Administration Vague On Plans for Viet Nam

However, Congress Has Given Johnson Authority to Institute Tougher Policy

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — The men didn't reach a decision on how to save Viet Nam and perhaps all Southeast Asia from communism. But they were very careful in the vaguely worded statement not to say so.

As the American-backed war against Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam steadily deteriorated there was a dense fog over this country's plans, if any for leaving the chaotic situation.

Then the U.S. ambassador to Saigon, Maxwell D. Taylor, came home to talk to President Johnson. After they met Tuesday the White House issued a statement which indicated neither a solution nor a new idea.

American Policy
By their very vagueness they left themselves enormous room for a far tougher American policy — if that's what they have in mind — but this becomes understandable only if you can remember the background.

Minding Your Business

By Cyrus Barrett, Jr.

Newsletter Field Grows as Industry Newsletter Bows

DEAR CY: My mother is good at spotting business opportunities. She tells me newsletters are becoming big business. Last week she said, "Get yourself a newsletter, Kenneth. There is now even a newsletter on newsletters." I am looking for a profitable sideline which could become a full-time business. How about this, Cy? — KENNETH A.

DEAR KENNETH: The newsletter on newsletters (entitled "Newsletters") is being published monthly by the Newsletter Clearing House. The field is composed of firms putting out their own communications as public relations gestures or to sell merchandise... and services. There are also newsletters who hope to make a profit on subscribers. This is the industry segment of it. This, of course, was no greater interest to you. News-distributors sign heralding a nasty dog. The lady and her husband were throwing a party to impress and wanted to spike this where else. (Sometimes this is especially brass plate to the front information no other community door. It cost $4.55 and read: "Scholars tell me that if you don't swing, don't ring." This crazy mermaid chandise rings the bell for profits in America. — CY

DEAR CY: I simply can't believe you. You can't convince me there is a market for high-priced, mucky merchandise. — PLECKNER

DEAR PLECKNER: Last week, an expensive accountant's wife drove 30 miles to a "Swinging Door" party. This was the industry segment of it. This, of course, was no greater interest to you. News-distributors sign heralding a nasty dog. The lady and her husband were throwing a party to impress and wanted to spike this where else. (Sometimes this is especially brass plate to the front information no other community door. It cost $4.55 and read: "Scholars tell me that if you don't swing, don't ring." This crazy mermaid chandise rings the bell for profits in America. — CY

DEAR CY: My daughter is a 3rd grade teacher. She would like to spend next summer in Europe, but work her way. Where can we find out about schools abroad which can use American teachers during the summer months? — MRS. J. P.

2nd Communist Party Organized in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — A second Japanese Communist party was formed today by members expelled from the original party for favoring a pro-Soviet line. The older party, which has the same name, has aligned itself with Red China in the ideological dispute between Moscow and Peking.

To Your Good Health

Possible Causes of Leg Cramps Plentiful

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. I'm surprised that you didn't ask your doctors about the dosages, but I guess that's something that people sometimes forget.

My doctors advise me to "take quinine" but I have never had any directions for it. At times I take benadryl. I am a poorly-controlled diabetic, have a heart condition, atherosclerosis and prostate trouble. Now the leg cramps are becoming a great problem. —JOHN B.

You do indeed have a collection of troubles, but it is quite possible and quite understandable that the leg cramps give you more misery than the others put combined. They are not as serious, of course, but more annoying.

Quinine and benadryl both are prescribed for leg cramps, but of course they aren't the only measures. Excessive smoking can contribute to spasm of the blood vessels, hence further limited circulation and muscle cramps. If you smoke—stop.

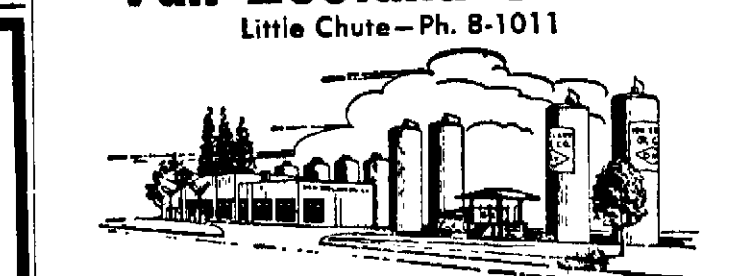

Buerger's exercises, which are very simple, may help the circulation, too. I've known of cases in which this alone has put an end to leg cramps that were not too severe basically. I have a booklet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," and you may well want a copy of it for an explanation of Buerger's exercises and other help.

Cannon Leading for Nevada Senate Seat

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., held an unofficial 88-vote lead today with a recount of Nevada's contested U.S. Senate election virtually wrapped up.

ful treatments. (Any reader may get a copy by sending a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents in coin to Dr. Molner, in care of this newspaper.)

Dear Dr. Molner: What foods contain the "trace elements" of boron, iron and iodine?—MRS. J.W.

Most trace elements are contained in a wide variety of foods. For those you name:

Iron: This may deserve to be called more than a "trace element," because the body needs more than just a trace of it. Many sources: Beans, peas, whole wheat or other cereals, beef, eggs, leafy vegetables, such as kale, spinach, etc., dried fruits such as prunes and apricots.

Iodine: Needed for the thyroid. Sea foods are the chief source, but in fruits and vegetables the amount varies depending on where they are grown, more in coastal areas, little or even none when inland. (For practical purposes, iodized salt provides an ample amount.)

Boron: Little is known of the need for this. Eggs and milk are among the commonly used foods which contain it.

NOTE TO G.D.: A "B.S.P." test is injection of a dye, bromosulphalein, into a vein. This dye is excreted almost entirely by the liver. The amount retained (5 per cent or less in 45 minutes) is normal. Greater retention indicates a liver disorder. (Copyright, 1964)

Industrial Forests Gain Trees

NEENAH — Wisconsin paper companies planted 2,584,000 trees on state industrial forests the past year.

Since plantings began on an organized basis, these firms have set out a total of 78,440,000 seedlings on their lands.

The figures were in a special report today to the Wisconsin Service, Neenah. The survey covered plantings for the year ending July 1, 1964.

Paper industry foresters already have harvested pulpwood seedlings planted in the 1920s.

Northern Part of Nation Struck by Wintry Weather

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Men and snow removal equipment in northern and eastern Maine labored today to clear highways of heavy drifted snow that stranded hundreds of travelers in a chaotic white nightmare.

The snow Tuesday skipped past most of the coast but struck sections of Maine hard. Driven by winds which sometimes reached 60 miles an hour, the snow piled in drifts up to eight feet.

Mother, Sons Missing
At least two persons died in the blizzard which heaped nearly two feet of snow on Eastport and heavy amounts on other areas of Hancock, Washington and Aroostook counties.

Police said a snowplow operator, Elmer K. Stockpole, died at work south of Presque Isle. In Bangor, Helen Stoddard, 72, collapsed in her driveway after walking six blocks through wind-driven snow.

Baker Called To Appear in Senate Probe

Don B. Reynolds Describes His Part In Alleged Payoff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators called Bobby Baker to the witness stand today to question him about an alleged $25,000 political payoff in which he has been cited as the man who gave the orders.

There was no advance indication as to whether Baker would testify. In an earlier Senate probe of his activities, he invoked the Fifth Amendment and refused to answer questions.

Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance man, opened the Senate Rules Committee's hearings Tuesday by swearing he was the "bag man" in the alleged kick-back deal and Baker was the one who "gave me all my orders."

Testifies 4 Hours

For some four hours Reynolds detailed the arrangements he said were made between Baker and Democratic politician Matthew H. McCloskey to funnel $25,000 from a government contract for construction of the District of Columbia Stadium into the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund.

Baker was scheduled to be called today following William N. McLeod, former clerk of the House District Committee. McLeod was to be questioned about his role in getting congressional approval for a bill calling for construction of the stadium.

Reynolds testified that he gave McLeod $1,500 and told him, "It's time I shared with you."

Tuesday's public hearing was frequently marked by verbal wrangling between Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., the committee chairman, and Lennox P. McLeod, special committee counsel.

At one point Curtis claimed McLeod was trying to "discredit" and "impeach" Reynolds' testimony and "sandbag" Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., who triggered the second round of the Baker probe with a Senate speech last September revealing what Williams called a "political payoff."

Reynolds testified he added $35,000 to the fee for acting as broker through whom the McCloskey firm's performance bond in constructing the stadium was written.

Kennedy Film Edited By Ceylonese Censors

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Ceylon's Foreign Ministry has cut references it considers complimentary to Fidel Castro from the Kennedy memorial film "Years of Lightning, Day of Drums."

The film is being shown by the U.S. Information Agency. The ministry also cut sections dealing with the Berlin situation and events in Southeast Asia which were considered anti-Communist.

A Foreign Ministry source said the government does not allow foreign missions to distribute propaganda that could imperil Ceylon's relations with friendly countries.

Indian Throngs Greet Pope Paul in Bombay

Pontiff Says He Goes to Eucharistic Congress as Pilgrim of Peace, Love

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL
BOMBAY, India (AP) — A gigantic, fervent sea of humanity surged around Pope Paul VI as he arrived today.

After the longest mission ever undertaken by a pontiff, the Pope over a trip here of 13 miles was encompassed for an hour and a half by hundreds of thousands. They pressed against his car and at times seemed almost to spill over it. Police estimated there were 100,000 at the airport and more than a million along the way.

Streets Crowded

"Jai!" the people cried as he entered Bombay. "Hail! Hail!" It was an enormous reception, in the view of veteran observers.

The multitudes crammed the streets. They packed the rooftops. They filled balconies and alcoves. They stood atop signboards, walls, vehicles and on hillsides adjoining the Pope's route.

Thant Wins Debate Delay In Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The launching of the twice-delayed U.N. General Assembly without a head-on clash between the United States and the Soviet Union was seen today as a victory for Secretary-General U Thant.

Delegates said Thant's patience and persistence brought the big powers together Tuesday for one more try at getting the assembly under way without a blowup over the issue of the Soviet Union's unpaid peace-keeping dues and its assembly vote.

As diplomats sat in the General Assembly hall waiting for the 19th session to begin, representatives of the four big powers met in Thant's office and agreed to limit the opening weeks to general policy debate and noncontroversial issues.

During that time a 21-nation committee will try to reach some solution of the issue raised by Soviet refusal to pay any Congo or Middle East peace-keeping dues and the U.S. contention that it should lose its assembly vote as a financial delinquent.

Times Square Is Scene of Battle With Guns Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Policemen and a former inmate of a hospital for the criminally insane fought a gun battle in Times Square early today.

Bullets shattered windows of two stores in the gaudy, crowded crossroads, but nobody was wounded. At one point, patrolmen withheld their fire lest they hit bystanders attracted by the gunplay.

Officers cornered their wind-up quarry in a 17th-floor hotel room, where he was reloading his revolver. He gave up without a struggle.

The drama began shortly after midnight when 10 detectives took positions at the intersection of Broadway and 45th Street. They had been tipped off by Wilfredo Flores, 23, that John David Thompson, 28, was to meet him there.

Flores, a former fellow inmate of Thompson at the Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, was to deliver two pistols to Thompson.

Cuban Workers to Have First Election In Castro's Regime

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban workers are voting today to fill 10,000 posts on worker councils provided for in a new social security and work law. It is the first election in Cuba since Fidel Castro came to power in 1959.

The councils, to be set up in factories or work centers employing more than 25 workers, will determine penalties for such things as absence without justification, careless maintenance and sabotage of equipment.

The pontiff, 67, riding in an open white American-built convertible, alternately smiled and looked about in wonderment, waving almost continuously and occasionally pressing a dark hand stretched to him.

There was no single incident, although police had been prepared for hostile acts from fanatical Hindu sects opposed to the papal visit to attend the 38th international eucharistic congress.

Greeted by Shastri

Waiting to greet him were Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, a Hindu who was said at first to have opposed the Pope's visit to Hindu India; and Vice President Zakir Hussain, a Moslem.

"We rejoice in the honor of meeting you," the Pope said in his address to Shastri and Hussain. "We thank you for your great kindness in coming, at the cost of no little sacrifice, to bid us welcome to your land, and we salute you and the members of your government of India with deference and respect."

After praising India for its efforts for world peace, the Pope added:

"We come as a pilgrim, a pilgrim of peace, of joy and love. We greet all the Indian people, every man, woman and child. And we extend our greeting to all the nations of Asia, to every nation in the world."

"May they always remember that all men are brothers under the fatherhood of the Divinity. May they learn to love one another, to respect one another and avoid violating the rights of others."

While there were nearly 100,000 people in the city.

Rusk, Gromyko Have Second Conference

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk scheduled a second meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today in an effort to win Soviet agreement to help pay for peace-keeping operations of the United Nations.

A last-minute accord Tuesday postponing a showdown at the General Assembly opened the way for basic financial negotiations starting at a luncheon meeting of Gromyko and Rusk at the headquarters of the Soviet U.N. mission.

U.S. sources expected other East-West issues would come up, also, including disarmament, trade and a U.S.-Soviet consular agreement.

Sets Churches Afire

Philadelphia Arsonist Brags of His Activity

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — After a church fire last Friday, fire officials found a note that warned: "I'll burn those churches like I did in Boston."

Fires in Boston
Boston authorities said there had been four church fires there last week, all of a suspicious nature.

Fire Commissioner George E. Hink conferred with Boston authorities on the similarity of fires in both cities.

Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary ordered patrol cars to make special round-the-clock checks of all schools and churches until further notice.

Police were alerted to watch for anyone with a New England accent seen loitering near a church. However, telephone operators who received the anonymous call at the newspaper said they heard no trace of an accent.

The operators said the caller sounded "refined, well-educated." They said the caller identified himself as "the chap who has been burning the churches." Then he told them "go to the mailbox at Fifth and Chestnut." The note was found there.

Although Pope Paul's air trip Tuesday began in a hard rain it ended in brilliant sunshine at Bombay, India, where the pontiff is to attend the 38th International Eucharistic Congress. This is the longest mission ever undertaken by a Catholic pope. (AP Wirephoto)

Brazil Detains Peron After He Lands in Rio de Janeiro

Former Argentine Dictator To be Returned to Spain

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Brazil abruptly halted Juan D. Peron on his arrival from Madrid, Spain, today with the aim of eventually returning

It was made plain Peron, 69, would be unwelcome in Montevideo, the Uruguayan capital to which he had been bound; and in Asuncion, Paraguay, where he wanted to live until he felt the time was ripe for return to the nation from which he was ejected by a bloody revolt in 1955.

Rest of Flight Cancelled
The Iberia airliner which carried Peron from Spain, where he had lived luxuriously since 1960, was held up nearly two hours at the Rio de Janeiro airport and the Iberia company finally announced cancellation of its scheduled run on to Montevideo.

Peron quit the plane with Joao Lampraia Gracie, the Foreign

Official barriers mushroomed against the former strong man in Rio de Janeiro, Buenos Aires, Argentina, and other South American capitals.

Battle Over Health Care Resumed by AMA at Long Range

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle over health care for the aged under Social Security has been resumed at long range, even though Congress will not reconvene for a month.

In quick succession over the past two days, the president of the American Medical Association called on doctors to fight the legislation — warning them the odds were the stiffest in years — and a principal sponsor of the bill said it could be passed by Easter.

The optimistic forecast came from Sen. Clinton Anderson, D-N.M., who termed it "completely realistic."

Anderson and Rep. Cecil R. King, D-Calif., were co-authors of the bill that came closer to passage this year than any of its predecessors, winning for the first time the approval of the Senate.

West Allis Woman Dies Of Smoke Inhalation

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Mrs. Audrey Callies, 45, died early today of smoke inhalation when fire broke out in the upper flat of a home in West Allis.

Firemen said the blaze in the two-family dwelling apparently originated in electrical wiring above a porch. The lower flat was vacant.

Mrs. Callies' husband was driving a truck somewhere in Wisconsin.

Assembly's New Majority Party Organizes at Caucus

MADISON (AP) — Robert T. Huber will be speaker of the Assembly at the next session of the Legislature. He was named Tuesday at a caucus by his Democratic colleagues, who will hold a 52-48 majority in the Assembly.

Robert Huber

sembly. The 1965 session will convene Jan. 13.

The 44-year-old lawmaker served as minority leader during the 1963 session and Democratic floorleader of the 1955-57

61 sessions. He was speaker pro tem when the Democrats held their last Assembly majority in 1959.

Huber has been close enough to the speaker's chair to almost reach out and grab it for many sessions, and during that time he developed positive ideas about the post.

"A speaker's long suit must be his ability to treat both sides fairly, besides keeping his own party unified and keep the wheels of the Assembly rolling," he said.

Assails "Bickering"
"No legislator was held in high regard during the last term because of the continual bickering," he said. "The public soon finds out who is responsible and who is just playing politics."

Huber, a native of Eckelson, N.D., graduated from West Allis Central High School. He represents the city of West Allis and three wards in West Milwaukee, an area he describes KUCHING, Malaysia (AP) — A British Gurkha patrol killed six Indonesian guerrillas in a jungle clash in Malaysia's Borneo state of Sarawak, a military spokesman said today.

One Gurkha was slightly wounded, the spokesman said.

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong wiped out a government district headquarters Tuesday, seizing enough weapons to arm a reinforced guerrilla company.

About 300 Viet Cong smashed their way into the town of Thien Giao, 100 miles northeast of Saigon, and killed the district chief and 13 of his men. The Communists escaped with 113 weapons, including 53 machine guns.

Thirty defenders were wounded and six were missing. Two Viet Cong were reported killed in the fight.

The force at Thien Giao radiated the military headquarters at the coastal town of Phan Thiet for reinforcements. Flare-dropping planes and fighters arrived within an hour. Two companies of ground troops also were dispatched.

By the time the ground troops arrived a little before dawn, the Viet Cong had left with their booty. They also carried off two radios and destroyed the district headquarters building and a munitions dump.

Draft Reply to School Aid Foe

Policy Change to be Told to Ex-Board
Member in Letter

A letter responding to questions raised by a former school board member on the Appleton Board of Education's change of its policy on federal aid was approved by the board this week.

A. Neil McLeod, a staunch opponent of federal aid to education during and after his term on the Appleton board, had written asking about the manner in which the board reviewed and changed its policy.

A board policy rejecting all federal aid was adopted in 1960 when McLeod was on the board. Reconsideration of this policy was started last winter, and the policy was changed last summer, with the board deciding to judge each case individually. Since then the board has applied for and received federal aids under the National Defense Education Act and school milk programs.

Draft Prepared

The board Monday approved a letter drafted by Mrs. George Munro, board president, in reply to a Sept. 23 letter from McLeod. A second letter from McLeod, noting that he had received "neither reply nor acknowledgement" to the previous letter, also was received Monday, after the draft had been prepared.

In his second letter, McLeod summarized questions he had raised in the earlier letter "relating to purported activities of the board that are not revealed in the public record." He asked about the board's study of its federal aid policy: "1. What tangible form did this study take? 2. When and in what manner was the study reported? 3. In what way did Mrs. Walter Heil and Kenneth Sager participate in or benefit from the study? 4. Has the public record been amended to reflect your answer to Number 2?"

(Mrs. Heil was reappointed to the board last May and Sager was elected last spring and joined the board in July.)

In her letter, Mrs. Munro said, "We regret your dissatisfaction with our approach to the question. While in many instances, a more formal and strictly outlined method of study seems necessary to gain information, in this case all board members already had considerable knowledge of the subject under scrutiny. Both the philosophical and practical aspects of this particular issue have been debated almost endlessly in print and speech for some years. Thus, we made our decision through some discussion beginning Dec. 28, which the record shows, and a great deal of personal reflection on the part of each board member."

Excerpts from board minutes on the federal aid discussion and a copy of other correspondence explaining the board's stand were enclosed with the letter. McLeod appeared before the board during its discussion to reiterate his opposition to federal aid.

"Complete agreement at all times with all of our constituents would be an Utopian state, indeed, but this is humanly impossible," Mrs. Munro's letter concluded. "We only regret that, at this point, we find ourselves in disharmony with as thoughtful a student of public education as yourself."

Minutes generally do not record the "back and forth" discussion of the board, Mrs. Munro noted Monday.

Mrs. Heil and Sager both had much background in this question before joining the board and had all the board's material on it at their disposal, she said. Three board members also were on the board before the 1960 decision. "so I cannot see that the writer could feel individual board members were uninformed on this topic," she said.

Taylor Will Return Soon to So. Viet Nam

Presumably New Orders Are to Intensify Efforts

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, armed with fresh orders from President Johnson, will fly back to South Viet Nam shortly to work out new plans for intensifying the war against Communist guerrillas.

Presumably, prospective new military actions could include air strikes against the Communist supply lines that run from North to South Viet Nam through the mountainous jungles of Laos.

Details Withheld

A White House statement reported on the conference Johnson held Tuesday with Taylor and other top policy advisers with details on prospective actions.

Significantly, however, the statement emphasized Red use of the supply lines through Laos and said there is evidence of increasing support to the Viet Cong rebels from Communist North Viet Nam. The statement also said that Taylor would "consult urgently" with the South Viet Nam government on what should be done to improve the war effort.

Mounting Expectation

Against the background of mounting expectation of decisions on whether the war should be broadened beyond the boundaries of South Viet Nam the White House statement summarized military political and economic conditions in the country and said:

The meeting reviewed the accumulating evidence of continuing and increased North Vietnamese support of the Viet Cong and of North Vietnamese forces in and passing through the territory of Laos in violation of the Geneva accords of 1962.

Heavy Snow Strikes Large Part of Maine

in the roof of the Christian Temple church.

The temperatures in Maine were in the low teens in northern sections.

Drifts of up to eight paralyzed highway traffic. Several snowstorms were stuck Tuesday night between Caribou and Washburn.

Hundreds of Maine motorists were stranded Monday night as the swirling snow piled ever deeper on highways. About 100 persons crammed into a service station at Vachias. At Presque Isle every hotel motel or rooming house space was taken by travelers blocked by the storm.

Sections of U.S. Route were clogged by snow or by traffic jams of up to 50 cars and trucks.

Freighter Aground

Off Nova Scotia near Halifax, the 3,800-ton Liberian freighter Fury was driven aground by winds estimated as high as 90 m.p.h. and high waves.

The Fury, with 18 men aboard, was tossed about so vigorously that she lost several lifeboats and both anchors.

Rescue ships struggled through the storm-tossed seas to reach the disabled craft.

Another craft, the fishing vessel the Friars out of New Bedford, Mass., was buffeted by the high seas some 90 miles southeast of Nantucket Island off the Massachusetts coast. A Coast Guard rescue ship reached her side and stood by to help as the Friars struggled toward port.

The international ferry Blue-nose canceled a scheduled trip from Bar Harbor, Maine, to Yarmouth, N.S. An official said the ferry would probably make the trip Wednesday.

Knitting of Retired Salesman Is Stolen From His Automobile

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — Clive Manley dropped a whole row of stitches — mentally, that is — when he returned to his parked car.

Someone had stolen his knitting needles, three sweaters and a pattern book from the unlocked vehicle, he told police Tuesday.

The sweaters were going to be a Christmas present "for my old gray-haired mother," Manley said sadly. "There's nothing to do but to start all over again. But I sure will miss that old pattern book. It can't be replaced."

Manley learned to knit more than 20 years ago, while a World War II prisoner of the Japanese. He weathered the ridicule of his fellow Navy officers and he never gave up his hobby.

The retired Brookings, Ore., real estate salesman, visiting relatives here, says he'll mind his knitting from now on.

100,000 Indians Greet Pope Paul in Bombay

000 Indians at the airport, many barefoot and wearing the dhoti or robe of their impoverished land only about 8,000 were permitted to enter the airport. Many of these were Indian Catholics.

Rain and Sunshine

In contrast to the takeoff in the rain from Rome, the Pope's Air India plane landed in brilliant sunshine. Minutes before the plane landed about 2,000 Indians broke through police lines and surged across the runway seeking a better view of the leader of the world's half billion Roman Catholics.

About 2,000 police, on duty at the airport, shoved the crowd back without using violence. The police used long bamboo poles.

There was a cheer from the crowd as the jetliner landed in the 87-degree heat.

Diplomats Present

After greeting Shastri and Hussain, the Pope met a receiving line of diplomats. Luke Shastri, many of them had flown the 1,000 miles from New Delhi. In the reception line was Information Minister Indira Gandhi, daughter of the late Prime Minister Nehru.

As the band played the paper hymn Tu es Petrus — You are Peter — a mass of government Church and police officials surrounded the Pope. He walked slowly to a waiting car in the motorcade assembled to drive him 15 miles into the center of Bombay.

Waves to People

The Pope's car, a white American-built convertible with red leather seats, flew the Indian and Vatican flags from its hood. The Pope waved to the crowds as he walked and they cheered.

Shastri did not accompany the Pope into Bombay. Hussain said beside the Catholic leader.

More than 16,000 policemen were stationed between the airport and Oval Park, the Pope's destination in downtown Bombay where the congress is being held.

Riot squads stood ready in back alleys and side streets in case trouble should occur along the Pope's route.

As the Pope's car pulled away, the crowds pressed forward, blocking the motorcade's route through a huge arch.

Policemen pushed the crowds back.

Waiting in Oval Park for the Pope were an estimated 200,000 Catholics attending the congress. They had been jammed in the 80-acre park for hours under the hot sun.

With police unable to hold back the crowds, estimated at a million, the Pope's car moved slowly into the city.

Bestows Blessing

As the first purpose of our journey to India is to attend the international eucharistic congress, so our first visit after being welcomed to the soil of this immense country is to you, who here worship, exalt and celebrate the divine mystery of the blessed sacrament," the Pope told the congress.

We come to assure you of our fatherly love and constant interest. Keeping you always in our prayers, we ask for a remembrance of yourself in yours. From a heart filled with paternal affection, we gladly bestow upon you all, and upon all your loved ones, our special apostolic blessing.

Vatican authorities and Air India officials had said the Roman Catholic pontiff wanted dolly and severed the second things as simple as possible.

But I'm afraid we've diso-beved him a little," said one officer of the Indian airliner. "After all, he is the Pope."

Separate Partition

Part of the Boeing 707 jetliner's first-class compartment at the scene and had taken was partitioned off to make a private compartment for the Pope.

In it was a bed, several chairs and a table at which he could work.

Nineteen members of the Pope's party occupied the rest of the first-class section.

The Vatican radio supplied tapes of the Pope's favorite classical music to be played over the plane's loudspeakers. The Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's "Messiah" greeted him as he stepped aboard.

Longest Journey

In a statement distributed as he left Rome on the longest papal journey in history, the Roman Catholic pontiff asked those who sympathized with his mission to pray for its success. With poverty-stricken Asia as his destination, he appealed to the rich countries of the world to lend economic support to relieve the poverty of underdeveloped nations.

The Pope's Air India jetliner took off before dawn from Rome, in a driving rain, and only a small crowd saw the pontiff off. Because of the rain, he canceled the departure speech he was to have made. Copies were distributed to newsmen instead.

In it the Pope said his trip seeks to unite all peoples in closer bonds of mutual understanding and friendship, making them ever more conscious of the inescapable duty of knowing one another, of loving one another from the heart, of helping one another effectively according to the goods received from God in varying measure, not meant for a few nations but created for all the human family.

The Pope's plane carried 88 persons — the papal party of 20, 26 newsmen, 30 nuns, priests and laymen and a crew of 12. The Pope's party filled the first-class compartment, and part of it was partitioned off for the pontiff.

En route the plane made one stop, for an hour, at the international airport outside Beirut, the capital of Lebanon.

Unsuccessful Burglar Puts Finger on Self

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Calif. (AP) — David Pehrson, who literally put the finger on himself in police custody today.

"I'm wanted in Minnesota," Pehrson, 31, told the desk sergeant Tuesday, holding up a bandaged left hand.

Officers said Pehrson explained that he bungled a safe burglary last Nov. 13 in Hopkins Minn. He said the safe he was trying to move slipped off a dolly and severed the second finger.

While he waited in Orange County jail, police said, confirmation came from Hopkins sheriff's deputies. Yes, a burglary warrant had been issued.

Sharks Off Florida Pitted Against Sharks

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Florida Board of Conservation is pitting shark against shark in an effort to steer them away from commercial fishing nets in the Florida keys.

Sharks are caught with heavy baited hooks and a flat board is attached to the line. The board slows the wounded shark and tires him. Other sharks, smelling blood, attack their weakened comrade.

Commercial fishermen on both the Atlantic and Gulf sides of the keys have reported uncommonly big schools of sharks tearing into their nets in search of food.

Increase for School State Aid Suggested

MADISON (AP) — A $20.4 million increase in state aid to local school districts for 1965-67 was recommended on a 9-4 vote Tuesday by the Legislative Council's education committee.

The increase, if approved by the 1965 Legislature, would push the state aid expenses to about $217 million. The allocation for the current biennium is $187.5 million.

The increase was recommended by the biennial aids adjustment committee in a report to the education committee.

Angus B. Rothwell, state superintendent of public instruction, told the committee members that if the current formula was unchanged the cost to the state would increase $29 million. "There are more children to educate and the increase will push the state's cost up without changing the formula," Rothwell said.

Race Disturbed
By Rep. Byrnes'
CAB 'Attack'

Congressman-Elect
Says No 'Pressure'
Should be Brought

OSHKOSH — Congressman-Elect John A. Race Tuesday said he is "disturbed over rash attacks" by Congressman John Byrnes on last week's ruling by the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) designating Winnebago County Airport as the Fox Valley regional airport.

Race said he did not feel congressional pressure should be brought to bear in the matter "but if that is the way, the battle is to be fought — I am prepared." The congressman-elect said he "will meet head-on any attempts by Mr. Byrnes to 'steal' the regional airport out of Oshkosh."

Byrnes released a statement Sunday charging the CAB ruling "flies in the face of reason." Byrnes pledged his aid to have the ruling reversed and implied he would bring congressional pressure to bear.

In a letter this morning to area public officials and civic leaders, Race said:

Delighted With Decision
"I was most delighted that the Civil Aeronautics Board has unanimously chosen the Winnebago County Airport as the regional airport for the Fox Valley."

While the congressman is entitled to his view and I have no desire to engage in a personal hassle with him, it should be noted that Mr. Byrnes' remarks are contrary to the interests of the Fox Valley as a whole, and to the integrity of the CAB.

"An important point to note is that the CAB was unanimous in their choice of the Winnebago County Airport. They based the decision on the fact that it is through this airport that the people of Oshkosh, Appleton, and Neenah-Menasha as well as the people of Fond du Lac, Berlin and Green Lake can best be served."

Disturbing Point
"An equally disturbing point about Mr. Byrnes' remarks is that they violate the intention of establishing an independent regulatory agency such as the CAB. Such independent agencies have been established to make decisions on the merits of the particular case and thus will not be subject to political considerations and pressures. To bring pressure, such as the remarks of Rep. Byrnes imply, would defeat the purpose of having an impartial agency decide on the matter in the first place."

Race said he plans to be in Washington, Dec. 4-10 and will talk to Winnebago County Airport counsel Robert Lester at that time to assure him of "help in every way possible."

The court ruled that Ritchie, a high school senior, could continue his studies while in the county jail. Eckhart, who said he had dropped from school in his junior year, will be allowed to resume his studies while in jail.

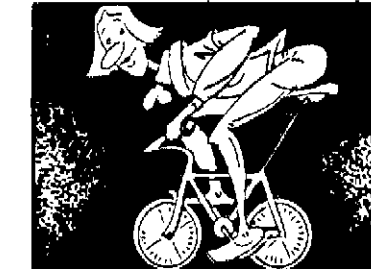

Both have been given permission by the Waupaca High School authorities to attend classes.

$37 Tax Rate Adopted for 1965 by Waupaca Council

New City Budget Needs 50-Cent
Increase Per $1,000 of Valuation

WAUPACA—A budget calling for a $37 tax rate was approved for city payment of retirement by the city council Tuesday and this year it will be $5,000, night after a budget hearing.

The new rate means taxpayers will pay approximately 50 cents more per $1,000 assessed valuation than they paid last year.

The rate last year was $54, but the assessment was based on approximately 48 per cent of equalized valuation. Now the assessment is being figured from a 68 to 70 per cent of equalized valuation.

This year, as last year, property owners can expect a 10 per cent refund from the state sales tax credits.

City Spending
The budget adopted calls for an increase of $44,130 in spending, from $338,606 last year to $382,736 this year. This is for city spending only. Along with this budget taxes for other than city purposes which will be state tax, $3,907; county tax, $112,337; and school tax of $207,748. For city purposes, $136,918 will be raised from the tax rolls.

In a breakdown of this year's budget $50,800 is earmarked for general government spending. This is up $1,900 from the $48,900 allocated last year.

Protection of persons and property costs have climbed to $73,031 which is $6,459 over the $66,572 spent last year. The largest increase in this category is hydrant rental which jumped from $10,456 last year to $14,606 this year.

Health Costs
Health and sanitation costs rose $2,300, from $17,100 to $19,400. Because of a $2,500 increase in the cost of street lighting the streets and other transportation group was raised $3,000 from $51,220 to $54,220.

Because of increased costs of operating the city library, armory and athletic field, the education and recreation portion of the budget was boosted from $42,298 to $50,288, up $7,298.

Principal and interest payments on bonds was eliminated this year, reducing the money needed for indebtedness from $66,899 paid last year to $58,021 in the new budget which calls for $47,000 to be spent for principal on long term notes and $11,021 for interest on long term notes.

The newly installed retirement plan has been the main cause for a jump in the unclassified listing in the budget.

In other action the council gave City Clerk Arthur Pohland authority to have the auditors set up the books for the changing over of the water utility from a class D to class C where it was placed by Wisconsin Public Service Commission.

Utility Reclassification
Utilities with gross operating revenues in excess of $50,000 per year, the past three years are reclassified. Pohland said the change will involve a more detailed bookkeeping system.

A tax credit relief of $23,143 will be received by the city in 1965 from the state. This will involve a $3.10 decrease in the rate of $44.75 per $1,000 of assessed valuation tax rate adopted for 1965.

A report from the U.S. Health Commission said $83,049 of the messmen in town will approach proposed $180,000 for sewage plant reconditioning had been expended. Representatives time to study the proposal. Ald. Bids Total $74,625
For Waupaca Office

County Highway Committee
Opens Second Set of Offers
For Construction of Building

WAUPACA — Bids totaling $74,625 for a new Waupaca County Highway Department office building were opened and accepted Monday by the county highway committee.

Low general construction bid of $48,800 was awarded to Don's Construction Co., Waupaca. Other low bidders were Smith's Paint Store, Clintonville, painting, $2,015; Peters Plumbing, Omro, plumbing, $3,430; Bassett Refrigeration Appleton, heating and ventilating, $12,900, and Bob Richards, Waupaca, electric, $6,480.

Monday was the second time bids were opened for the building. Last month when the first set of bids was opened, the low total was $91,000 which was $16,000 over the budgeted $75,000. All bids were rejected.

Second Set
When the second set of bids were opened Monday, it was found that they also exceeded the $75,000, but after conferring with the low general contractor by telephone the architect and committee was able to shave $2,680 off the general construction bid.

This was done by eliminating carpeting in some of the first floor offices, eliminating three ornamental metal screens and at stair treads leading to the basement level.

The original design called for an 80 by 50-foot building with offices and the engineering department all on the same level. After bids received last month totaled $91,000, the building size was cut to 64 by 45 feet and the engineering department was placed in the basement. On the first floor of the new design there will be two general offices, two private offices and a hallway and restrooms.

The basement level will contain the engineering department, which consists of an office, darkroom, printing room and drafting room. Along with these rooms there will be a storage vault, furnace room and other storage rooms.

All of the bids received Monday will be accepted and contracts awarded soon except the painting bid. This bid was withheld until a ruling can be made by the district attorney on the legality of the bid. It was submitted by Woodrow Smith who is a member of the Waupaca County Board.

Not Committee Decision
Members of the highway committee said there had been questions on whether a bid submitted by a county board member could be accepted. Fred Grunwald, highway commissioner, recommended the decision was not the committee's and the district attorney should rule on the issue.

Total cost of the building which will be across from the present highway department shops will be about $87,102. This includes the $74,625 for construction, $4,477 for the architect fees and the $8,000 for the 65 by 120 foot lot on which the building will be built. The lot has been purchased.

Work on the building is expected to start within 10 days after the contracts have been signed and the completion date has been set for May 1, 1965.

New London Sets
Tax Rates for '65

Cost Per $1,000 in Waupaca
Is $60.93; $55.61 in Outagamie

NEW LONDON — The city council Tuesday approved 1965 tax rates per $1,000 of assessed valuation of $60.93 for Waupaca County and $55.61 for Outagamie County residents.

The four wards in Waupaca County will pay $6.23 per $1,000 valuation over the current year when the rate was $54.70. The third ward property tax of $55.61 per $1,000 is $6.63 over the current $48.98 rate.

Nearly all the increase in tax funds can be traced to the city's $437,501 requirement for school purposes. This is $83,947 more than the current year when $353,554 was required for school operations. Construction of a new school is largely responsible for the hike.

Waupaca Rate
The rate for the city's Waupaca property owners includes $14 for local purposes, $28.74 for schools, 35 cents for state taxes collected by the county and $11.61 in county taxes. The school rate soared to $35.18 per $1,000 for 1965, an increase of $6.44. The state tax increased six cents to 41 cents, while city needs decreased 10 cents to $13.90 per $1,000. Waupaca County taxes dropped 17 cents to $11.44.

Outagamie County taxpayers experienced the increase in school tax along with Waupaca citizens. The third ward also will pay the same $13.90 city tax.

2 Stop Signs Approved by Chilton Council

Police Chief Advises Move For Added Safety

CHILTON — City council approved two additional arterial stop signs Tuesday night at the request of Police Chief Dan Albedyll.

Albedyll explained the need for signs to stop northbound traffic at the intersections of Spring and Breed Streets and Water and Breed Streets.

Breed Street, the chief said, is a through street and traffic approaching should be stopped.

The chief also requested an ordinance prohibiting parking on a short section of Grand Street. The area to be affected is the east side of the street from E. Main Street about three car lengths to the north, he said.

"Extremely Hazardous" — "When cars are parked there, it is extremely hazardous due to the narrowness of the street," he said.

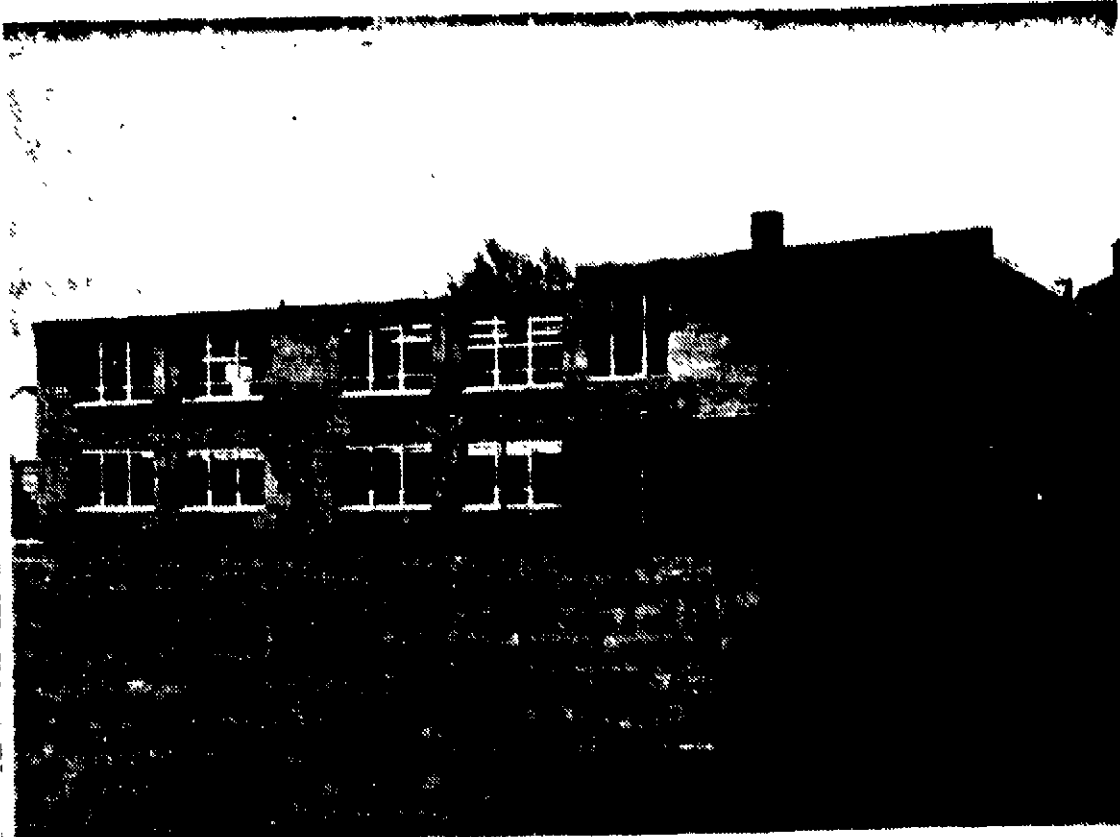

On the recommendation of the chief, the council approved a bartender's license for Louis Seeger but denied one for Frederick Allen because of his arrest record.

Restricted Season

Deer Kill in Calumet Skids Sharply in 1964

CHILTON — In contrast to last year's season which had a two-day deer season and a kill in Calumet County of 753, the 160 count this season is meager, indicated Rod Bahr, county game manager.

Three registering stations in the county counted 154 deer, with six being registered in the field by conservation department personnel, he said.

The Chilton station counted 60 deer this year to lead the three stations. Last year a total of 237 or 177 more were brought in. Kiel, lowest of the three last year with 188, registered only 59, 129 less.

Hilbert Count — Hilbert, where 328 were counted last year for the highest of the three, was lowest this year with 35, a decrease of 293.

Even with the small registration, Bahr said it was as good a season as could be expected with the hunting pressure down more than 50 per cent and the cold weather.

Keith Reichenbach, Chilton, conservation warden, said a total of 19 deer were seized and 11 arrests were made for shooting illegal deer such as doe and button bucks, transporting uncased and loaded guns in cars and hunting without the required red clothing.

Arrests Up — Arrests, he said, were up even through the hunting pressure, was down considerably. All hunters he talked to, he said, seemed to agree that the all-deer season for the first two days last year, did not hurt the deer herd. Many said they had seen more deer this year than ever before, he pointed out.

Bahr, in explaining the deer count, said approximately 98 of the total registration in the county were actually shot in Calumet County. Of the remaining 39 were shot in Manitowoc, 12 in Sheboygan, six in in contrast he pointed out that only five to 10 deer shot in Calumet County were registered in other counties.

Officers re-elected were Emil Judar, Chilton, vice-commander; Alfred N. Proposed College Plans to be Aired

Developments to be Discussed by Education Group in Kaukauna

Developments in the four-year college proposal for the Fox River Valley will be aired at a meeting of the Northeastern Wisconsin Education Committee at 8:30 a.m. Friday at the Kaukauna Legion hall.

Mayors of the area and local committee members have been invited to attend.

Knowles Cautious

Commission Recommends School Site

Appleton Planners Agree to Future South Side Need

Purchase of a 12.4-acre future elementary school site on the city's far southside for $38,000 was recommended today by the Appleton Plan Commission at a meeting in city hall.

However, the commission stipulated the property, owned by Dr. Edward F. Meilke, would have to be annexed to the city.

The commission had before it a request of the board of education to approve the site. Supt. of Schools William Spears said it was the first choice of the board of education.

Criticized Price
Ald. Clifford Radder (16th) criticized the price of the Town of Harrison property and suggested the school board should have considered others.

"I think you could have obtained some property to the west a lot cheaper," Radder said. He also said the school board, and the city should have "someone else check out properties. He said prices go up when a municipal need is shown.

Spears assured Radder this had been done by the school board when initial contact was made with the owner.

Radder said $3,200 per acre for the property was too high. He questioned the urgency of building a school on the far south side.

Northwest Side
Spears said the Gillett Highlands area, on the far north-west side, had top priority for a new elementary school. The city already owns the land for the proposed building project.

Spears explained an elementary school would be needed next in what is now Town of Harrison.

Raymond LeVe, a member of the commission, said he did not think $3,000 an acre was unreasonable. Commission approval was unanimous.

The commission also recommended selling city-owned land to Zwicker Knitting Works for $33,500 and approved vacating old Meade Street near the corner of E. Wisconsin Avenue. The former street will revert to Appleton Coated Paper Co.

Hunter's Hand Hurt When Bullet Strikes Rifle, Shatters Scope

KAUKAUNA — David Zwick, 31, 6 Armstrong Court, received injuries to the right hand about 10 a.m. Saturday while hunting near Wausaukee, Marinette County, when a bullet struck the rifle he was carrying, shattering the scope.

Zwick was carrying the rifle across his chest when a bullet landed in front of him. He called to the unknown hunter not to shoot when the second shot hit the rifle, causing the scope to shatter.

A portion of the gun was removed from his hand in the hospital in Marinette County, and he has now been transferred to Kaukauna Community Hospital, where additional surgery will be needed to remove other fragments still in his hand. He is reported in good condition.

Authorities did not know who the hunter was.

Charge Menasha Driver After Fatal Crash

A warrant charging Robert J. Schultz, 27, 714 Appleton St., Menasha, with operating a car on the left side of the road, was issued today by Asst. Dist. Atty. James Bayorgeon.

The charge came from a coroner's inquest two weeks ago into the automobile death of Mrs. Edward J. Hawley, 28, of Hortonville, on Oct. 23.

Schultz was the driver of a car which collided with a second car in which Mrs. Hawley was a passenger. No date has been set for Schultz's court appearance.

However Gov.-elect Warren Knowles Monday indicated he will be cautious about spending money for this school and another proposed for the Racine-Kenosha area. He noted there were no funds to build the two new campuses and said a decision should be delayed until the State Coordinating Committee for Higher Education has developed a master plan that would meet education and training needs to help business and industry expand.

Meanwhile the Green Bay City Council Tuesday pledged unanimously its complete cooperation with state agencies to make a four-year university in Green Bay a reality including giving 110 city-owned acres of the proposed site "if the state deems this necessary."

The overwhelming approval of the amendment was voted over the opposition of Mayor Roman Dennissen, who said the land offer was premature.

"Offer Called For"
Ald. Robert Houle said the land offer was called for "in view of the developments of the last week."

He said aldermen should recognize that the site report already is under attack and that the situation toward the school has changed with the defeat of Gov. Reynolds.

Green Bay will be in a stronger position if it expresses a willingness to give the land if the state asks for it, he said.

"We are in a battle for this university site with Appleton and Outagamie County whether we like it or not. This is a small enough price to offer for a $25 million educational facility. I'm not saying give it. I'm saying offer it," Houle said.

Ald. Loris Dow said Green Bay voters were viewing the decision before the council in terms of the $1,000 a year they could save in sending a child to a local university, not in terms of the $66,000 the city paid for the land involved.

Offer Premature
Dennissen maintained the land offer would be premature and contrary to the timetable of the Northeastern Wisconsin Education Committee, the citizen group which brought about the site survey.

Dennissen noted that exhibits for the Green Bay area sites include letters from him and Myron Lotto, county board chairman, promising use of City Stadium, Veterans Memorial Arena, and the future Lily Lake Arboretum.

That's $5 million worth of public facilities already. I don't know how much further we can go to show how interested we are in this," Dennissen said.

Ald. Rhynie Dantinne said the city should wait to see whether a $1.7 million appropriation bill proposed with the site report becomes a reality. He said he was willing to give the land "if it comes to a showdown but we are jumping the gun on this too fast."

Appleton to Seek Work on College Ave.

Would Widen and Rebuild Street During 1965

Appleton officials will petition the state highway commission to include improvement of College Avenue from Bdgaer Avenue west to the viaduct in its 1965 projects.

Meeting in city hall Monday, the council's street-sanitation committee decided to ask the state for reconstruction and widening of College Avenue in lieu of scheduling Seymour Street work.

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues prompted the committee's action after he explained the state highway department was anxious for city officials to decide whether Seymour Street should be included on next year's project list.

Residents Objected
Several months ago the state said it would pay 85 per cent of the cost of widening and repaving Seymour Street, in the 10th Ward. Several residents reportedly objected to Ald. Harold Hannemann and nothing was done at the time.

"If we don't take any action on Seymour Street, we will lose this public works project and the state aid by default," Bues advised. He said if the city did not want to include Seymour Street as a state project, another might be considered.

Bues said Seymour Street was in need of repair and if the city resurfaced the roadway itself without widening it, the cost would be $25,000.

He also said if the state took over the street project and widened it from 36 to 45 feet, the city's share of the over-all project would still be about $25,000.

Deputy Says He Tried To Halt Cecil Trucker

Post-Crescent News Service

SHAWANO — A Shawano County deputy sheriff, testifying Tuesday afternoon in the reckless homicide preliminary hearing of Cecil truck driver Ivan Mueller, said he signaled for Mueller to stop just before his truck drove through a crowd of National Farmers Organization pickets at the Equity Co-Op yards at Bonduel, killed two of the men.

The testimony of Walter Banaszynski, an 18-year veteran of the department, concluded the first day of the hearing in a packed Circuit Courtroom before Outagamie County Judge Raymond Dohr, Appleton. Dohr was appointed to hear the case after Shawano County Judge Kenneth Traeger disqualified himself on the basis of a writ of prejudice filed by the defense.

Testimony will continue today, and it may be sometime Thursday before Judge Dohr decides whether to bind the 39-year-old Mueller over for trial on the charge of causing by reckless conduct the deaths of Howard Falk, 64, of rural Bonduel and Melvin Cummings, 44, of rural Antigo in front of the south gate of the Equity Livestock Co-Op last Sept. 9.

Part of Crowd
Falk and Cummings were part of a crowd of NFO pickets estimated by authorities to run from 400 to 500 persons. They were attempting to block the entry of livestock trucks to the cooperative as part of the NFO's national livestock holding action. Banaszynski, under questioning by Dist. Atty. Michael Eberlein, related that he and three other deputies were stationed at State 117 at the gates when about 400 farmers gathered by 10:30 a.m.

The deputy said Mueller approached from the north and had his right turn signal on when he turned into the driveway where the mass of people halted his progress.

After Mueller backed the truck up about five feet, Banaszynski testified, I held my hand up so he wouldn't start the truck, but he ran in anyway. We didn't have time to get any of the people out of the way."

The deputy, who said he was in front of the cattle truck and less than five feet from the cab, noted that he wanted to hold Mueller up until police could clear the crowd away from the gate.

Pulled From Path

"When the truck lurched forward, the right front of the cab knocked two people down. One of the pickets grabbed my arm and pulled me out of the way of the truck, or I would have been hit, too, Banaszynski told the court.

The deputy said he then followed the truck into the livestock yard and saw that Mueller had a pistol. The trucker then surrendered the gun to Banaszynski.

At one point, Banaszynski said Mueller was angry, and another time he noted, "he was in an ugly mood because he couldn't drive into the yard's right away." Both statements were admitted into the record by Judge Dohr over the objections of defense Attorney Bernard Berk of Green Bay.

The deputy also said that he was dressed in full uniform with badge and shoulder insignia when he signalled Mueller to stop in the crowded driveway.

He also said that the trucker did not sound his horn before driving into the crowd of pickets.

He also said he saw two men struck by the truck and fall to the ground, but he couldn't tell if they were Cummings and Falk.

U. S. Losing War of Words On All Fronts

Foreign Affairs Progress Depends On World Opinion

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Significant opportunities to sway the opinion of peoples everywhere in the world in support of the policies of the United States are today being neglected. Yet public opinion is the greatest single force that can strengthen the position of the United States abroad and help to prevent a third world war.

Not only is the government here failing to reach the peoples behind the Iron Curtain, but it is not placing its story squarely before the peoples in the so-called free and "non-aligned" countries.

This is largely due to the clumsiness of governmental bureaucracy and the inexperience of the president and his cabinet officers themselves in dealing with the problem of publicity abroad. It is closely related, of course, not only to American prestige throughout the world but to the trend of the foreign policy in many of the governments allied with this country.

Best Example

No better example of the sins of omission on the part of our own government is to be found than in handling the story of the rescue mission in the Congo in recent days. Here was a humanitarian project. Human lives were at stake. Innocent and helpless persons were being threatened with massacre. The United States merely furnished transport planes so that Belgian paratroopers could move in quickly to save men, women and children. The expedition had the highest purpose, but the Russian and Chinese propaganda apparatus got busy at once to declare the whole thing to be "military intervention" and an "act of aggression." The United States stood by in virtual silence while the propaganda bombardment went on for several days.

Many of the new nations in Africa took the wrong attitude toward the rescue mission because they were being subjected to misrepresentations furnished by Communist sources. The question will be asked: What could the United States have done? For one thing, the president could have stressed the humanitarian nature of the mission and could have denounced in public and in unequivocal phrases the attempt of the Soviets and the Chinese to distort the true purposes of the expedition.

Press Conference

The president had a press conference last Saturday at his ranch in Texas — the first since mid-October — but he made only a brief and somewhat defensive reference to the Congo situation. He had an opportunity to deal comprehensively with the Soviet charges of military aggression. He could have readily obtained time on all the radio and television networks that same evening for an address that could have been repeated by the "Voice of America" throughout the world. A signal opportunity was missed to gain a world-wide audience for the American point of view.

It is a strange paradox that throughout the recent campaign the Democratic administration had the benefit of all the publicity machinery so essential to the winning of an election. But when it comes to the post-election problems, the bottom seems to have dropped out of the whole publicity apparatus insofar as it concerns world affairs.

One of the perplexing aspects is the position of the United States Information Agency and its outlet known as the "Voice of America." The personnel are well equipped and qualified to do the job, but the instructions which are handed them constantly by the State Department are far from constructive. In contrast, the Soviet and Red Chinese governments are using the airwaves as well as communications to the press to maintain an incessant barrage of propaganda.

In the case of the United States government, the tendency is for the Department of State to make the publicity policy. The right of censorship is exercised on the theory that to do otherwise might interfere with diplomatic relations. This involves a question of judgment. In this area boldness and courage are needed and yet what prevails now is frustration, if not timidity and irresolution.

If the Communists are going to be permitted to get away with their one-sided presentation of international issues, it will affect American prestige not only inside Africa and Asia but in Europe and Latin America as well.

Publicity is something in which America is supposed to be proficient. But when it comes to international relations, the bureaucrats have managed to squelch any forceful and persistent presentation of the American viewpoint by radio and in the foreign press.

President Johnson is struggling with many problems but, until he solves this one, he is not likely to make the headway and progress in foreign affairs that his administration could otherwise achieve.

It is only when the United States is willing to stand up before the world and talk in unmistakable phrases about its purposes that people everywhere will begin to learn both sides of the story of the conflict between Communism and the Free World.

Chinese Heckling Russian Policies

Propaganda Appears Attempt To Discredit Soviet Leaders

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

The Red Chinese are seizing on events in the Congo to heckle Soviet foreign policy once again. It appears to be a new attempt to discredit the Kremlin in the eyes of world Communists.

A defensive tone in the official Soviet press hints embarrassment in the post-Khrushchev regime. It is the sort of reality but also a crime against the cause of peace and progress. This is what the revolutionary people of the world and all peace-loving people can never tolerate.

The Chinese heckling is a projection of the idea, forcefully pounded home in recent Peking propaganda, that Khrushchevism continues to dominate Soviet foreign policy and that there can be no peace in the world Communist camp until all the supporters of Khrushchev are swept out of high positions in Moscow.

Congo Events
Citing the Congo events, the Chinese poured vituperation on President Johnson and his predecessors as "jackals from the same den — butchers slaughtering the people of various countries and archcriminals undermining world peace."

The propaganda indicates that Soviet foreign policy in some

Alaska's Quest for Tourist Dollar Looks More Promising Now

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Alaska's quest for the tourist dollar in 1964 ended on a promising note, despite the massive earthquake that damaged the south-central portion of the state March 27.

The Good Friday temblor brought on a flood of cancellations on booked tours to Alaska, only days from the start of what had been predicted as a banner tourist year. Tourism is a substantial factor in Alaska's economy.

Continuing aftershocks, recorded at a fantastic rate of 500 to 1,000 a week in the earthquake area, gave all but the stout-hearted traveler reason to shy away, initially.

"Then, the people seemed to forget what had happened — the or illness but to the bankruptcy tears began to dry up," says Charles B. West, tour agency president.

Others closely connected with the tourist industry, including general manager Don Dickey of the state Chamber of Commerce and Morris Ford, director of the state's travel division, agree.

While booked tour travel was down, there are indications that over-all travel was up by some 2.6 per cent over 1963.

5 Poles Sentenced for Backing Chinese Reds

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Five Poles believed to have circulated propaganda favorable to the Red Chinese have been given a secret trial and sentenced to prison on charges of spreading "false and slanderous information."

The sentences ranged from 18 to 30 months. A sixth defendant was acquitted. Details of the charges were not made public.

In the Chinese view the Soviet housecleaning is far from complete.

Khrushchev's removal from office means the end of the struggle to smash modern revisionism.

Revolutionary Movements
Pravda carried a long editorial a few days ago saying the Soviet Union had supported revolutionary movements in the Middle East, Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America. It insisted that Moscow stood ready to repel the "U.S. colonialists and imperialists" in all these areas.

The tone of the editorial was defensive and complaining. However, the Chinese are unlikely to accept Soviet protestations of good faith so long as Khrushchev's peaceful coexistence policy persists.

As one of Red China's most important allies in the world Communist squabble, D. N. Aid, the Indonesian Communist party, expressed it recently: "Khrushchev's downfall obviously was not due to old age forget what had happened — the or illness but to the bankruptcy tears began to dry up," says Charles B. West, tour agency president.

Pictures of Mars

If everything goes right in the next week or so, the nation will have seven months to wait before a new spaceship named Mariner 4 attempts to take the first close-up pictures of the planet Mars.

The initial blasting of the craft into a trajectory aimed at Mars was a perfect performance. Calculations several hours later were that the initial trajectory would miss the planet by 200,000 miles, but a small steering motor aboard Mariner 4 is capable of making adjustments of up to one million miles. Later this week, after computers have calculated its course precisely, a signal will be sent to ignite the steering motor and instructions will be transmitted to alter its course to take it within 8,600 miles of the planet. Satisfactory data from its many cameras can be obtained if it comes within 54,000 miles of the target.

Scientists are especially anxious about Mariner 4 because this is the last opportunity the United States will have for a Mars probe for two years because of the location of the planet in relation to Earth.

The race to Mars became even more intriguing several days later when it was announced Russia had also launched a spaceship for Mars. There was speculation the Russians might have selected a higher-speed trajectory and might beat us there; then it was announced the Russian vehicle was not operating properly and that its speed was cut in half.

Scientists pointed out that such a spaceship can gain speed if its bulk is sacrificed, but that means sacrificing the information it can send back. It may be the Russians were hoping for a propaganda victory by beating us to Mars. But at the moment our Mariner is out in front and in the long run it will be the volume of information it sends back which will be more important than who gets there first.

Laws and Morals

One of the most difficult of legislative problems deals with statutes which attempt to regulate morality. Differences of opinion on such matters are reflected in the wide divergence among laws of the various states. In Wisconsin gambling is against the law, but in New Hampshire a state run lottery is providing funds for the schools. Arkansas also legislates against gambling but has a rich source in the taxes it collects on the gambling it outlaws.

Another area in which there is an increasing amount of protest is sexual morality. Can or should the law forbid or try to regulate sexual habits among consenting adults?

A temporary commission on Revision of the Penal Law and Criminal Code in New York is currently making proposals on changes and hearing testimony. One proposal now being debated is to change the law so that sexual deviation among consenting adults will no longer be considered a crime. Another proposal is to change the law so that the customers of prostitutes will be held equally culpable for the offense.

Last year there were efforts to change British law so that homosexual practices were no longer considered crimes. Obviously such laws are almost impossible of enforcement. The recent news of how Walter Jenkins was arrested by policemen hidden in a shower room equipped with peepholes to peer at occupants of a public men's room indicated the lengths to which the law must go if any sort of enforcement is possible. And, as we have noted before, there is a great danger of laws on the books which are patently unenforceable.

Widespread ignoring of laws which can't be enforced tends to the point of view that any law can be broken with impunity if the transgressor can get away with it. In a society controlled by law, this in itself is highly immoral.

Defenders of laws against sexual deviation and in other moral fields argue that the presence of the law stresses that organized society frowns upon such transgressions and this thereby helps to keep them at a minimum. But are the people of New Hampshire who buy legal lottery tickets less moral than the Wisconsinites who put several dollars into an illegal football pool? It would appear to be just the other way about. There is a relative morality here; is the deviation itself as bad in the eyes of our society as breaking the law about it? Do we rely upon the law to determine morality?

Quite obviously our criminal codes should be periodically reviewed. There has been a great deal of publicity and debate in recent months over sexual intercourse outside of marriage. Even some clergymen have defended it and most churches at least face the reality that it occurs whether or not it is right in some circumstances. And yet our laws in Wisconsin and in many states flatly state that it is a crime. The number of hasty marriages and illegitimate children adequately shows that the laws involving fornication and adultery are not and cannot be enforced. If the strict morality of sex is at stake, should not the prostitute's customers be more severely punished than the prostitute, the opposite of the law in Wisconsin? It would seem that the exploitation of another human being for personal gratification is a more serious moral offense than providing such gratification at a price. But in the recent cases involving Hurley, the alleged prostitutes were arrested while the customers weren't even charged under existing laws.

Morality involving sins of commission undoubtedly does depend to some extent upon the attitudes, both official and unofficial, of society, including its laws. But if there is a big gap between what the statutes say are crimes and what is generally or widely practiced, the role of laws in preventing or even regulating such acts diminishes. When legislators attempt to legislate morals they are always on shaky ground.

Legal Verdict on Cigarettes

The decision of a federal court jury in Miami that cigarettes "are reasonably safe and wholesome for human consumption" represents the first legal opinion on the subject of cigarette smoking and cancer and will undoubtedly be appealed since it flies in the face of the medical opinion handed down earlier this year by the U. S. Surgeon General.

Beneficiaries of the estate of a Miami man who was a heavy smoker and died of lung cancer sued the American Tobacco Co. for $1.5 million. They contended his cancer was caused by smoking three packs a day of Lucky Strikes. But the jury ruled otherwise.

There was considerable medical testimony offered. In fact the foreman of the jury said that he quit smoking after hearing some of the evidence.

The tobacco industry expressed relief at the decision because a number of other similar suits are pending. But the American Cancer Society was quick to point out that the jury's finding "can have no bearing on the medical and scientific evidence that indicates cigarettes are the major cause of lung cancer."

This was the second time the case had been before a jury. The first time the jury held that smoking was a cause of the victim's death but awarded no damages because it said the tobacco company did not know at the time that smoking might cause cancer. An appeals court held that the company's "implied warranty" of the purity of its product made it responsible for smoking's consequences and ordered a new trial.

Since the victim's death occurred before the Surgeon General's report was issued the case may not set a precedent for deaths which occur from now on. There may now be a greater presumption that a smoker who continues the use of cigarettes knows the risk he is taking. But at least the case indicates that it will be legally difficult to recover damages from cigarette manufacturers.

"This Could Backfire."

In Perspective:

Churchill Once Said He Had No Desire to Live Life Again

BY MAX FREEDMAN

WASHINGTON—Long years ago Sir Winston Churchill confessed that he had no desire to live again. This pilgrimage across the years, with its mingled tragedy and triumph, had been exciting and rewarding but it was not worth repeating. He wrote before his heroic achievements in the second World War placed him forever among the immortals. But he has never repented of the early verdict, never departed whose gallantry was conspicuous, was wounded in the ankle and fainted from pain and loss of blood while rallying his men who were somewhat surprised by this sudden attack.

The gallant men reformed and twice repulsed charges of the enemy before withdrawing. The enemy, being in strong force, and discovered to be partly infantry, Col. Osband did not deem it prudent to risk a general engagement, and accordingly fell back across the Yazoo and returned to Vicksburg without further loss.

25 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, Nov. 25, 1939.

Vincent Jones, Appleton, and Art Kaemmer, Kiel, were Lawrence Vikings at the annual football dinner in Appleton. Tom Reider, veteran end on the Appleton High School squad, was named honorary captain of the 1939 Terrors at a meeting of high school lettermen.

Masque and Book Club at Appleton High School were starting a puppet-making project with the goal of presenting a play. In charge of the project were Mary Kay O'Keefe, Billie Kolb, Ben Rohan, Arlene Greb and Robert Sager.

Honor roll students at Elmdale School, Town of Grand Chute, were Evalyn Klein, Landen Brooks, Filia Spreeman, Ronald Kasparek, Betty Brooks, Janice Sleed, Junio Stead, Lyle Spreeman and Maurice Brockman.

10 YEARS AGO

Members of the Wrightstown High School Tigers, out to capture the Little Nine Conference basketball title, included Ken Wierschke, Russ Aerts, Paul Klister, Don Aerts, John Pagel, Arlyn Meulemans, Doug Geys, Darrol Reschke and John Biese.

Ralph Wurdinger was elected president of the junior class at Kimberly High School. Other new officers were Tony Van Krey, vice president; Sandy Van Himbergen, secretary; Marilyn Smits, treasurer.

Lavern Holz was president of the freshman class at Fox Valley Lutheran High School. Other officers included Leanne Lemke, vice president, from its austere wisdom. Once is enough.

Throughout his career Churchill has been battered by fortune. He entered the House of Commons after the Boer War as the rising hope of the Conservative Party. But he soon quit that party to join the Liberals and to become the target of venomous abuse from his former colleagues. During one of his early speeches more than 200 Tories left the House in protest against his views. Churchill did not have to wait very long before he learned that politics enforces its lessons with scorpions.

Gallipoli His Best Book

Not many months passed, in the first World War, before his triumphs at the admiralty were replaced by his entanglement with the Gallipoli campaign. That campaign lives in history for two different reasons: the matchless valor of the troops and the pitiable futility of the British Cabinet. In the end the weakness in London cast away in ruin and shame all the unavailing heroism at Gallipoli. Had Churchill's resolute and prophetic advice been followed, the gallant enterprise might have been touched with victory. Instead, amid a shambles of half-measures and the reproaches of those strong only in censure, he crept forlornly out of the cabinet, awaiting a more generous hour for his fortunes to revive. But even this disaster was almost redeemed by a gleam of greatness. For Churchill's account of the Gallipoli campaign is probably his best book, the most moving and the most majestic.

Made Bitter Enemies

After 1920 Churchill found himself increasingly involved, with Lord Birkenhead at his side, in a running feud with the Labor Party. He made uncompromising enemies in these battles. Many Labor leaders looked on him as the eloquent advocate of vested privilege. They forgot that his cause was "the cause of the left-out millions." They forgot that he had a shaping hand, with Lloyd George and Herbert Asquith, in laying the foundations of the welfare state.

They forgot that Sir William Beveridge, with his far-reaching ideas on social security, first came to work for the British government at Churchill's initiative. They remembered only the girls and sneers at the Labor Party. This grudge, sharpened by many bitter and estranging memories, built up the legend that Churchill was invincible in war but untrustworthy in peace. It had no small part in flinging him from power in the election of 1945 after all the garlands of victory had been gathered or were soon to be won.

Churchill himself has always taken more pride in his campaign against appeasement than in his leadership during the war years. Yet the man who spoke for England during the agony of battle, and did much to save her and the world's endangered freedom, was often a forlorn and forgotten figure before the war. The House of Commons ignored speeches which it could not answer. A large part of the British press dismissed him as a reckless troublemaker whose pageantry of speech failed to disguise his poverty of thought. He tasted the last dregs of criticism and exclusion in these bitter years. Not even the embattled glories of the war have quite been able to sponge them out of his memory.

Missouri Speech

After 1945 he again was caught on fortune's rough wheel when he made the noble mistake, in his Iron Curtain speech at Fulton, Mo., of being wise too soon. He was denounced as an impetuous enemy of Russia instead of being honored as a far-sighted guardian of peace. This time he did not have to wait very long before recovering his status as a major prophet. But soon he was in trouble again with his advocacy of summit conferences. Churchill always wore the armor of wisdom, never the garments of timid prudence.

This spacious and incomparable career, now in its serene afterflow, reminds us that no political career can fairly be judged until all the changes and chances have ended. It also reminds us that the secret of Churchill's greatness has been his dauntless trust in the people, not in the entrenched power of any party. Churchill may be wise in not wishing to live again but all of us will surely wish to thank him for the high privilege of being his contemporaries while his glory and greatness filled the world.

Last Unexplored Regions Will Give Way to Man

The last totally unexplored region of the world is finally going to give way to the probing eyes of man.

It is a windswept desert of ice between the South Pole and Queen Maude Land, the latter being the coast of Antarctica nearest Africa. Thus far it has been avoided by explorers, and with good reason. It is a formidable object.

Just how formidable it is was pointed up by the present exploration plan. Ten scientists will devote four years to covering the 5,000-mile expanse. And because of conditions there they will spend only two months of each year making the effort.

It is reassuring to learn that there are unexplored areas on Earth which lend themselves to the courageous adventurer.

Wisconsin Report

Campaign Costs Up; Huge Sums Needed to Elect Officials Today

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — State election campaign expenditure reports now being filed suggest clearly that a campaign disbursement of at least a quarter of a million dollars is now the norm for a reasonably effective and determined candidacy for public office on a state-wide partisan ballot.

In the experience of anybody who can recollect the practices of a quarter a century ago, or even a decade and a half ago, these are startlingly large campaign budgets.

Obviously the big and steady increases in the expected disbursements of the candidates and the parties is one of the results of the increasingly competitive political alignment. Both parties are straining to tap every money resource, out of an awareness that the election margins will be close and a difference of a few thousands of dollars in propaganda budgeting may mean the difference between victory or defeat.

DEMOCRATS GET FUNDS

The total disbursement is up, moreover, because the Democrats who for so many years had no chance to win and therefore little hope for interesting campaign contributors are now strong and challenging and have been able to collect contributions from some sources that formerly reserved their giving for the Republicans.

A detailed analysis of the several campaign expense documents is an exhausting and frustrating task. But one suspects that there are steadily more contributors in Wisconsin politics who are carefully helping both political parties, never being reasonably sure of the outcome of the balloting.

Finally, there is the factor of inflation, the rapidly rising costs of communication, and the enormous cost of television promotion without which most politicians appear to believe they cannot hope to reach either the ears or the consciousness of the inattentive masses of the electorate. The ballyhoo, and the puerile and repetitive style of such communications, pretty well reveals the political manager's estimate of the market, as he would put it.

QUESTIONS

Yet there are probably some persons with a more thoughtful regard for the democratic process who occasionally speculate about the implications of these enormous campaign finance figures, on the one hand, and the down-grading of the popular intelligence on the other.

Is the textbook notion that every boy can become governor really valid in 1964, in the face of the revelation of the enormous budget a normal campaign requires? Is there a risk that qualifications of aspirants to leadership one day will relate more directly to their money resources and their actor's studio skills, than to their qualities of mind and character and achievements?

There is no reason to doubt that the campaign cost figures, formidable as they are, are accurate.

But the prudent man will also note that there is no proof that they are and that there is no pretense of auditing them.

The caveat is perhaps more pertinent in the lesser realms of politics and campaigning. If the cost of a gubernatorial campaign is prorated and it is assumed that the unit costs for a State Senate or Assembly candidate are comparable or nearly so, then the local elections are also becoming more costly than most persons are probably aware. In the districts campaign spending is not as closely watched. Reporting may be even more casual. Who is putting up the money in the many instances when the candidate of slender means or his immediate circle are obviously not doing so?

Here is one of the gray zones of public policy, in a state of vigorous democratic disposition. A demonstrable weak expenditure reporting law, in a time of crazily rising electioneering costs poses hazards that thoughtful men must ponder.

Strictly Personal

Human Motivation Is Matter of Degrees

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In the development of the individual, from babyhood onward, there is an order of appearance in motives, a kind of "evolutionary process" of the personality.

The first, and lowest, motive in the baby is physiological, like hunger. A baby, first of all, must be fed. Next comes the safety motive, which creates fear. When a baby is no longer hungry or fearful, it moves to such motives as love, esteem, and self-realization.

This is the thesis of Dr. A. H. Maslow, in his book, "Motivation and Personality," which appeared about a decade ago. I think he is largely right. And what is important in this theory is that a higher motive usually does not appear until the ones below it are satisfied.

If a love-drive is inhibited by fear, the fearful person will not let himself go. If the hunger drive is great enough, it will overcome fear of punishment. Only when the lower, primary instinctive motives are satisfied, can the higher motives come into play.

To understand this hierarchy of needs in the human personality is to understand why we cannot expect too much of people living in slums, where life is a continual daily struggle to appease hunger and to ward off fears.

When hunger and fear are reduced, love motives can appear. When love motives are permitted to flourish, then the motives of esteem and self-realization can develop. But it is nearly impossible to have the higher motives until the lower ones have been gratified.

It is foolish and Utopian to expect underprivileged people living in the degradation of the slums to pull themselves up by their psychic bootstraps. A few extraordinary persons may be able to do this, but the vast bulk are crushed under the weight of their condition.

Wanting the esteem of society, and possessing self-esteem, are later and higher motives in the development of personality. To ask the underprivileged to care about art and science, civic responsibility and financial integrity is like asking a hungry and frightened baby to "pull itself together."

Man has evolved not only as a species, but each man (and woman) evolves as a person, stage by stage. When a whole stratum of society is confined to satisfying its primitive drives—for food, for jobs, for safety—in an affluent culture, only the most insensitive and supercilious would blame such people for "not making more of themselves." Out of such soil, what flowers can grow, except by a miracle of grace?

Looking Backward

Wisconsin Cavalry in Daring Raid

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Dec. 29, 1864.

The telegraph brought a brief report of a recent raid by our troops from Vicksburg. The Herald of that city brings a fuller account. The expedition, under the command of Col. Osband, left Vicksburg Nov. 25th and returned on the 4th inst. (Dec. 4).

It was designed to cut off supplies which the enemy were drawing over the Mississippi Central Railroad from the rich districts of the Yazoo and the Big Black Rivers.

After a sharp fight, it was successful in burning the railroad bridge across the Big Black, and tore up a mile of track. The 2nd Wisconsin Cavalry, Maj. Dale commanding, burnt Vaughn's Station, warehouse, steam-water tank, destroyed a mill and a half of track, with $700,000 worth of railroad supplies, 100 bales of cotton, 20 barrels of salt, a considerable amount of corn and wheat.

Success Again

On the 29th ult. (Nov. 29) the expedition destroyed still more of the road (railroad), 1,200 bales of cotton and a large amount of wheat and corn. They next proceeded to Goodman's Station, burnt there the railroad buildings and 1,300 bales of cotton, two engines, four cars and a large amount of other supplies. Thirty miles of road was left a ruin, which cannot be put in order in less than 30 days.

Having accomplished their object, the expedition returned to Yazoo City on the 29th (Nov. 29th) in time to baffle the enemy who were seeking to occupy that point before our troops reached it.

bels were advancing, sent out scouts on all roads at daybreak the following day for information.

Engage the Enemy

The enemy were found on the road, in more or less force, on which Maj. N. H. Dale with 250 men of the 2nd Wisconsin Cavalry had been sent. Maj. Dale and his men drove the enemy beyond the junction of the Yazoo City and Benton roads. Here, at some Negro quarters, the enemy developed more strength and two companies were dismounted to dislodge them. Finding them about to be flanked, two more companies dismounted to go forward and cover the flanks of those now fighting.

A large force concealed in a dense undergrowth of scrub oak, now made a furious assault on the small force of Maj. Dale, capturing a portion of Company E. Maj. Dale,

Taylor Will Return Soon to So. Viet Nam

Presumably New Orders Are to Intensify Efforts

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, armed with fresh orders from President Johnson, will fly back to South Viet Nam shortly to work out new plans for intensifying the war against Communist guerrillas.

Presumably, prospective new military actions could include air strikes against the Communist supply lines that run from North to South Viet Nam through the mountainous jungles of Laos.

Details Withheld

A White House statement reporting on the conference Johnson held Tuesday with Taylor and other top policy advisers withheld details on prospective actions.

Significantly, however, the statement emphasized Red use of the supply lines through Laos and said there is evidence of increasing support to the Viet Cong rebels from Communist North Viet Nam. The statement also said that Taylor would "consult urgently" with the South Viet Nam government on what should be done to improve the war effort.

Mounting Expectation

Against the background of mounting expectation of decisions on whether the war should be broadened beyond the boundaries of South Viet Nam, the White House statement summarized military, political and economic conditions in the country and said:

"The meeting reviewed the accumulating evidence of continuing and increased North Vietnamese support of the Viet Cong and of North Vietnamese forces in, and passing through, the territory of Laos in violation of the Geneva accords of 1962.

in the roof of the Christian Temple church.

The temperatures in Maine were in the low teens in northern sections.

Drifts of up to eight paralyzed highway traffic. Several snowplows were stuck Tuesday night between Caribou and Washburn.

Hundreds of Maine motorists were stranded Monday night as the swirling snow piled ever deeper on highways. About 100 persons crammed into a service station at Machias. At Presque Isle every hotel, motel or rooming house space was taken by travelers blocked by the storm.

Sections of U.S. Route were clogged by snow or by traffic jams of up to 50 cars and trucks.

Freighter Aground

Off Nova Scotia, near Halifax, the 3,800-ton Liberian freighter Fury was driven aground by winds estimated as high as 90 m.p.h. and high waves.

The Fury, with 18 men aboard, was tossed about so vigorously that she lost several lifeboats and both anchors.

Rescue ships struggled through the storm-tossed seas to reach the disabled craft.

Another craft, the fishing vessel, the Friars, out of New Bedford, Mass., was buffeted by the high seas some 90 miles south-east of Nantucket Island, off the Massachusetts coast. A Coast Guard rescue ship reached her side and stood by to help as the Friars struggled toward port.

The international ferry Blue-nose canceled a scheduled trip from Bar Harbor, Maine, to Yarmouth, N.S. An official said the ferry would probably make the trip Wednesday.

Knitting of Retired Salesman Is Stolen From His Automobile

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — Clive Manley dropped a whole row of stitches — mentally, that is — when he returned to his parked car.

Someone had stolen his knitting needles, three sweaters and a pattern book from the unlocked vehicle, he told police Tuesday.

The sweaters were going to be a Christmas present "for my old gray-haired mother," Manley said sadly. "There's nothing to do but to start all over again. But I sure will miss that old pattern book. It can't be replaced."

Manley learned to knit more than 20 years ago, while a World War II prisoner of the Japanese. He weathered the ridicule of his fellow Navy officers and he never gave up his hobby.

100,000 Indians at the airport, many barefoot and wearing the dhoti or robe of their impoverished land, only about 8,000 were permitted to enter the airport. Many of these were Indian Catholics.

Rain and Sunshine

In contrast to the takeoff in the rain from Rome, the Pope's Air India plane landed in brilliant sunshine. Minutes before the plane landed, about 2,000 Indians broke through police lines and surged across the runway seeking a better view of the leader of the world's half billion Roman Catholics.

About 2,000 police, on duty at the airport, shoved the crowd back without using violence. The police used long bamboo poles.

There was a cheer from the crowd as the jetliner landed in the 87-degree heat.

Diplomats Present

After greeting Shastri and Hussain, the Pope met a receiving line of diplomats. Like Shastri, many of them had flown the 1,000 miles from New Delhi. In his destination, he appealed to the reception line was Information Minister Indira Gandhi, daughter of the late Prime Minister Nehru.

As the band played the paper hymn, "Tu es Petrus" — You are Peter — a mass of government, Church and police officials surrounded the Pope. He walked slowly to a waiting car in the motorcade assembled to drive him 13 miles into the center of Bombay.

Waves to People

The Pope's car, a white American-built convertible with red leather seats, flew the Indian and Vatican flags from its hood. The Pope waved to the crowds as he walked and they cheered.

Shastri did not accompany the Pope into Bombay. Hussain sat beside the Catholic leader.

More than 16,000 policemen were stationed between the airport and Oval Park, the Pope's destination in downtown Bombay where the congress is being held.

Crowd Blocks Motorcade

Riot squads stood ready in back alleys and side streets in case trouble should occur along the Pope's route.

Policemen Pushed the Crowds Back

Waiting in Oval Park for the Pope were an estimated 200,000 Catholics attending the congress. They had been jammed in the 80-acre park for hours under the hot sun.

With police unable to hold back the crowds, estimated at a million, the Pope's car moved slowly into the city.

Bestows Blessing

"As the first purpose of our journey to India is to attend the international eucharistic congress, so our first visit after being welcomed to the soil of this immense country is to you, who here worship, exalt and celebrate the divine mystery of the blessed sacrament," the Pope told the congress.

"We come to assure you of our fatherly love and constant interest. Keeping you always in our prayers, we ask for a remembrance of ourself in yours. From a heart filled with paternal affection, we gladly bestow upon you all, and upon all your loved ones, our special apostolic blessing."

Vatican authorities and Air Kins, Minn. He said the safe he India officials had said the Ro-was trying to move slipped off a man Catholic pontiff wanted dolly and severed the second things as simple as possible.

"But I'm afraid we've disobeyed him a little," said one officer of the Indian airliner. "After all, he is the Pope."

Separate Partition

Part of the Boeing 707 jetliner's first-class compartment was partitioned off to make a private compartment for the Pope. In it was a bed, several chairs and a table at which he could work.

Nineteen members of the Pope's party occupied the rest of the first-class section. The Vatican radio supplied tapes of the Pope's favorite classical music to be played over the plane's loudspeakers. The Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's "Messiah" greeted him as he stepped aboard.

An Indian hostess, wearing a striped sari, and a steward attended the papal party. When Pope Paul flew to the Holy Land last January, only male stewards served his party on the charter flight.

Longest Journey In a statement distributed as he left Rome on the longest papal journey in history, the Roman Catholic pontiff asked those who sympathized with his mission to pray for its success. With poverty-stricken Asia as his destination, he appealed to the rich countries of the world to lend economic support to red-against the poverty of underdeveloped nations.

The Pope's Air India jetliner took off before dawn from Rome in a driving rain, and only a small crowd saw the pontiff off. Because of the rain, he canceled the departure speech he was to have made. Copies were distributed to newsmen instead.

In it the Pope said his trip "seeks to unite all peoples in closer bonds of mutual understanding and friendship, making them ever more conscious of the inescapable duty of knowing one another, of loving one another from the heart, of helping one another effectively according to the goods received from God in varying measure, not meant for a few nations but created for all the human family."

The Pope's plane carried 88 persons — the papal party of 20, 26 newsmen, 30 nuns, priests and laymen and a crew of 12. The Pope's party filled the first-class compartment, and part of it was partitioned off for the pontiff.

Sharks Off Florida Pitted Against Sharks

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Florida Board of Conservation is pitting shark against shark in an effort to steer them away from commercial fishing nets in the Florida keys.

Sharks are caught with heavy baited hooks and a flat board is attached to the line. The board slows the wounded shark and tires him. Other sharks, smelling blood, attack their weakened comrade.

Commercial fishermen on both the Atlantic and Gulf sides of the keys have reported uncommonly big schools of sharks tearing into their nets in search of food.

Increase for School State Aid Suggested

MADISON (AP) — A $20.4 million increase in state aid to local school districts for 1965-67 was recommended on a 9-4 vote Tuesday by the Legislative Council's education committee.

The increase, if approved by the 1965 Legislature, would push the state aid expenses to about $217 million. The allocation for the current biennium is $187.5 million.

The increase was recommended by the biennial aids adjustment committee in a report to the education committee.

Angus B. Rothwell, state superintendent of public instruction, told the committee members that if the current formula was unchanged the cost to the state would increase $29 million. "There are more children to educate and the increase will push the state's cost up without changing the formula," Rothwell said.
